Milwaukee's Police Clash
With Housing Demonstrators

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Police clashed twice with open-housing demonstrators in Milwaukee's virtually all-Negro Inner Core Sunday night. Thirty persons were injured, including a policeman hit by a rock. Police arrested 20 marchers. Among them was Negro comedian Dick Gregory, a leader of the protests now in their 43rd day. The violence was the first to flare in this racially troubled city since mid-September despite nightly marches, and counter-marches by opponents of open housing. A shotgun blast shattered the

Court Denies King's Appeal Of Conviction

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused today to re-examine the contempt of court convictions of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and seven other Negro ministers who led desegregation demonstrations in Birmingham in 1963. This means Dr. King, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, and the other ministers can be jailed at once. Last June the court affirmed by a 5-4 vote the convictions of the eight ministers for holding the Good Friday and Easter Sunday demonstrations in violation of an Alabama court order. The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People Legal Defense and Educational Fund petitioned the court to reconsider. In July, Justice Potter Stewart, who had written the majority opinion, ordered the five-day jail sentences and $500 fines delayed until the court returned from recess and considered the petition. It was rejected today in a brief order that gave no explanation. The court noted that Justice Thurgood Marshall took no part in the case.

Short of Complete Break Indonesia Announces Intent To Suspend Ties With Peking

JAKARTA (AP) — Indonesia announced today its intention to suspend diplomatic relations with Communist China. A Foreign Ministry statement said Indonesia has demanded that the Chinese government immediately allow the entire Indonesian staff in Peking to leave the country. When this is completed, the statement said, Indonesia will allow the Chinese staff in Jakarta to leave. The announcement stopped here.

Messages of Tribute Pour in for Britain's
Post-War Leader, Father of Welfare State

LONDON (AP) — The ashes of Clement Attlee, father of the British welfare state, will be placed in Westminster Abbey, burial place of the nation's sovereigns and statesmen.

Attlee, prime minister from 1945 to 1951, died Sunday in a London hospital after a long illness. He was 84. No date has been scheduled for the cremation but Nov. 3 has been tentatively set for the Westminster Abbey service.

Tributes continued to pour in from all over the world today. India's President Zakir Hussain sent a message of condolence to Queen Elizabeth II praising the man under whose administration India received her independence.

The Queen said Attlee "made an enduring place for himself in the history of our country and the Commonwealth. In war and peace he served his sovereigns well." Prime Minister Harold Wilson, who quit Attlee's Cabinet

Beer Party Ends Up as Gun Battle

4 Motorcyclists
Are Wounded at
Ypsilanti, Mich.

YPSILANTI, Mich. (AP) — Four motorcyclists, including a woman, were shot and wounded Sunday night in a gun battle which climaxed an all-day beer party of several motorcycle clubs.

Washtenaw County Sheriff Douglas Harvey said 25 persons were arrested at the scene of the shootout, an abandoned farm about four miles north of Ypsilanti. Eight women and two juveniles were among those arrested. Their ages ranged from 16 to 35 years, he said.

Charges of felonious assault were expected to be filed against several of them, police said. Sheriff's deputies, Michigan State Police and Ypsilanti police converged on the scene after three men rushed up to two city patrolmen at a drive-in restaurant and shouted, "they're shooting. Three are shot already. We need some help."

Return Fire

When officers arrived at the scene, shots rang out from the farm house. Police returned the fire, then threw a spotlight beam on the house and ordered the people out.

"We'll come out if we're sure you're police," a voice came from inside. "Show us the gum ball (scout car roof-light)."

A red light was flashed, and the motorcyclists came out. The wounded were found in a

Court to Rule on Draft Card Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court announced today that it would decide whether the 1965 federal law that forbids the burning of draft cards is constitutional.

At the same time the court will decide if a draft card burner can be sent to prison for not possessing his card.

The Justice Department had asked the court to hear the case after the U.S. Circuit Court in Boston ruled unanimously that the 1965 law abridges free speech and is therefore unconstitutional.

President Is Using Faulty Strategy

Rostenkowski 'Aye' to Table Tax Plan Shows LBJ Losing Touch

BY ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — The most dramatic and revealing moment of last Tuesday's (Oct. 3) closed-door meeting by the House Ways and Means Committee came when Representative Dan Rostenkowski of Illinois answered the roll call.

No maverick, Rostenkowski, 39, is the party regular at his best: district leader in the Chicago Democratic organization, Mayor Richard J. Daley's lieutenant in Washington and, as chairman of the Democratic caucus, youngest member of the House party hierarchy. He is not in the habit of defecting.

So, it was of unusual interest that Rostenkowski answered "aye" to the unprecedented motion to lay aside President Johnson's tax increase bill until he hands Congress detailed cuts in Federal expenditures totalling $5 billion. House Majority Whip Hale Boggs of Louisiana, also a committee member, glared angrily at Rostenkowski. But Boggs was in a distinct minority. The committee adopted the motion 20 to 5 (with Democrats splitting 12 to 5 against the President).

Ullman Too

Nor was Rostenkowski the only party regular to desert the White House. Representative Al Ullman of Oregon, the committee's chief advocate for the LBJ tax increase, not only supported the motion but told the committee Mr. Johnson must set spending priorities to get any tax increase. Only Boggs spoke out against the motion. And of the four Democrats joining Boggs in the voting, at least two oppose a tax increase, cut or no cut.

Such wholesale defection from Mr. Johnson on his priority proposal of 1967 reveals the state of his Capitol Hill quagmire. Furthermore, the facts behind his defeat can only lead to the conclusion that the legislative genius who tamed the Senate as Majority Leader and the whole Congress as President has lost his touch.

Until Tuesday's vote, an obvious tactic was open for the President. He could pick up the gauntlet tossed down by the Ways and Means Committee and come back with $5 billion in spending cuts to eviscerate programs most cherished by Congress: health research, space, highways, the supersonic transport (SST), rivers and harbors. Simultaneously, the Congressional bluff would have been called and passage of the tax increase quickened.

Expected Done Indeed, this is precisely what some Cabinet members expected Mr. Johnson to do and so confided to senior Congressmen. Nor should the White House have had any doubts that such a cut was necessary to unleash the tax increase. It was pounded answer the congressional demand that Johnson strike out some dollar signs.

That's where the ball game stood at week's start with neither side conceding anything. But on the sidelines, some government economists who insist they know nothing about the ins and outs of politics said they felt a tax increase would eventually be approved.

"Awfully Close" "The only question is the timing and the size," one analyst said. "I expect it to be awfully close to what the President wants."

Chairman George Mahon, D-Tex., of the House Appropriations Committee, could hold the key to the deadlock which might make both teams happy.

The signals could have been called not at a baseball game but at a round of golf Mahon played with Johnson two weeks ago, the President's first golfing in some time.

Mahon plans to scrutinize anew all appropriation bills in hopes of trimming more money. It's expected to bring postponements and deferrals of spending.

If that fails to satisfy the Mills' team, the tie could be broken later this month when the temporary spending authority of most government departments expires unless their appropriation bills are adopted.

Republicans, who earlier failed to tack a blanket ceiling on spending, are expected to try again at that time.

Meantime, some of the pro-administration fans expect Johnson to Marshall his team quietly and win the day as he did quietly and win the day as he did battles.

home daily in Ways and Means sessions to the President's two representatives — Budget Director Charles Schultze and Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. (Joe) Fowler.

Moreover, committee chairman Wilbur Mills of Arkansas spelled out this necessity in Tuesday, any White House re-unsual detail on Thursday, Sept. 28, in a confidential letter to Congress. By insisting that he could cut no more than $2 billion, the President now finds himself cornered. Although he could have taken the initiative in cutting expenditures before spelled out this necessity in Tuesday, any White House re-unsual detail on Thursday, Sept. 28, in a confidential letter to Congress. To do other-ly to Fowler (which Mills wanted wise, however, may lose the tax relayed to the President). When bill.

Communication Lack What helped create this dilemma was the shocking lack of communication between Congress and the President. Since the 10 per cent surtax was unveiled Aug. 3, the President has not discussed it with Mills either in person or over the telephone. One telephone conversation between them, initiated by Mills, dealt with another matter and did not mention taxes.

Nor, even at this late date, does the Administration fully understand the situation. Officials close to the President believe cuts enacted by the House Appropriations Committee will spring the tax increase from Mills' committee. It won't Action taken by the committee almost surely will be too little, too late for a tax bill pass the year's most important da-

Johnson, Mills Having Own World Series

Battle Over Taxes, Cut in Spending Firmly Deadlocked

BY JOSEPH R. COYNE

Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — While the Boston Red Sox and St. Louis Cardinals battle in the baseball World Series, two other teams are battling in a more serious game over taxes and spending. The score is now firmly deadlocked.

The team managers are President Johnson and Chairman Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee. Their dugouts are 16 blocks apart—the distance from the Capitol to the White House. The first pitch was tossed Aug. 3 when Johnson proposed a 10 per cent surcharge on individual and corporate income taxes. The administration promised $2 billion in spending cuts from civilian programs.

The ball was pitched back to the White House last week by the Ways and Means Committee. It temporarily shelved the surcharge plan by a 20-5 vote pending an agreement with the administration on spending cuts.

Whacked Back But Johnson whacked the ball right back late in the week, contending it's up to Congress to make cuts in a budget he considers already free from fat.

The administration applied a squeeze play about the same time. The Defense Department froze all new contracts for construction unrelated to the Vietnam war at military bases and on Army Engineer programs—the so-called pork barrel projects of river and harbor development.

The rival managers, through public statements and news conferences, repeatedly spelled out their positions as the week wore on but stuck to their original lineups.

Johnson said he wouldn't yield to congressional demands for big spending cuts as the price of reviving the surcharge. Mills called for an overhaul in spending philosophy, not just now but for the future.

Holding Action Then Saturday the White House confirmed the President had ordered Wednesday a temporary freeze on all federal spending commitments except for national defense and vital health and welfare programs, pending an end to the budget battle.

But the move was called only a holding action—not any kind of spending cut designed to

New Funding Plan Urged For Park Land

Study Proposal Would Accelerate Development Goals

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — A three-pronged financial attack must be made on growing outdoor recreational land needs a state study committee was told today.

In the final recommendations to the stated, Outdoor Recreation Act program (ORAP) advisory committee proposals calling for direct bonding and general treasury financing to fund the program have been made by study sub-committees which have worked for the past year and a half.

The final recommendations are expected to emerge from a day-long meeting of the task force in the state capital today.

Accelerate Funds

The ORAP program founded six years ago by then Gov. Gaylord Nelson as a 10-year land acquisition and development scheme, is financed through a one-cent a pack tax on cigarettes. Originally planned as a $50 million program, the tax has raised about $4.5 million a year for an expected total of $45 million by 1971.

The new proposals would make the program permanent and provide accelerating funding for additional land acquisition and growing development goals.

The ORAP program has come under heavy legislative fire recently because of the allegedly slow development of the more than 100,000 acres already purchased.

Recommendations, if approved by the study committee and adopted by the legislature would:

- Feed the cigarette tax funds to the state treasury and finance future programs from a fixed formula based on accelerating property values in the state.

- Create a bonding program to aid financing and provide quick capital for sudden purchases.

- Allow the Board of Natural Resources to set state park user fees to provide at least half of the cost of the park programs, removing that power from the legislature.

Purchase an additional 510,000 acres of recreational land by 1980 at an estimated cost of $49.4 million. The committee had earlier estimated this cost at $37.6 million.

- Sharply accelerate development of recreation lands at a cost of $44.6 million by 1980. Previous estimates for this goal have been $35 million.

- Create a program of aids to local government units where ORAP lands are purchased. Funds on all future purchases, the paid would provide a 10-year decreasing payment plan which would start at 100 per cent of existing taxes and drop in 10 per cent steps.

- Continue ORAP as a long-term program.

Speech Defended Alliance

Ecuador Asks Recall of U.S. Ambassador for 'Criticism'

By JORGE JURADO
Associated Press Writer
QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Wymberley DeR. Coerr prepared to leave Ecuador today after the Ecuadorian government requested his withdrawal for what it called "publicly and openly criticizing" President Otto Arosemena Gomez.

Ecuador's complaint was over a speech in which Coerr, 54, defended the Alliance for Progress and called it a success in Ecuador. Arosemena had criticized the American program in a speech two weeks ago.

"The Ecuadorian government saw itself forced to ask for his withdrawal to protect the national dignity and demand the respect due by a foreign envoy to the chief of state," a Foreign Office statement said.

Leave by Tonight
Coerr, a career minister and member of the Foreign Service since 1939, spoke Friday at the American School in Guayaquil. Ecuador asked Washington Saturday to have him out of the country by tonight.

The U.S. State Department said that under traditional diplomatic practice its only possible response is withdrawal of the ambassador. It considers Ecuador's request "to be unjustified by the circumstances" but added that it sees no reason to ask Ecuador's ambassador to withdraw in retaliation.

Coerr

Coerr said he was sorry that his sudden departure made it impossible for him to say good-byes to "my colleagues and good Ecuadorian friends."

Coerr's speech did not name Ecuadorian president but it did quote a number of remarks made by Arosemena as published in Ecuador's newspapers.

Arosemena had complained about high interest rates for loans, high costs for materials that had to be bought in the United States and the cost of the services of U.S. technicians under the Alliance for Progress.

In his speech, Coerr said interest rates were one per cent in the first year and 2.5 per cent thereafter. He said that of the total of $216 million in alliance loans to Ecuador, only $26.5 million had to be spent in the United States and only half of one per cent was needed to pay U.S. technicians.

He acknowledged some alliance failure in Ecuador but said "The alliance not only has been a success in the economical aspects in Ecuador but also in the social progress of this country."

The U.S. State Department said that after careful analysis of Coerr's talk, "we find it a reasoned, nonpolemical discussion on widely held points of view about the Alliance for Progress."

There was no immediate announcement of any replacement Coerr's charge d'affaires. John J. Crowley Jr., will head the embassy for the time being.

Negotiations Begin in Violent Haulers' Strike

7-State Meeting Brings Together Companies, Independent Steel Truckers, Teamsters Union

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The stand for any more violence and violence-marked steel haulers' strike has reached the conference table amid expressions of hope and determination to settle the walkout, now entering its third month.

Pennsylvania Gov. Raymond P. Shafer called the meeting bringing together representatives of seven states, the Teamsters Union, striking truckers and trucking companies today.

"He wants them to stay in the conference room until this thing is settled," said a Shafer aide. "The governor says he won't leave until this thing is settled."

and North Vietnamese locked in hand-to-hand fighting.

In the confusion of battle an American platoon of fewer than 50 men was cut off and surrounded by screaming Red troops. The rest of the company fought its way hand-to-hand through the North Vietnamese to relieve the platoon.

A field report said para-ropers with light wounds refused to leave the battle and presumably were not counted in the casualty report. The North Vietnamese—probably members of the well-trained 2nd Division—lost 60 dead, the report said.

The mortar attack on the Mekong Delta base at Dong Tam came before dawn today. The 82mm shells were evidently concentrated on the naval support installations on the shore of the Mekong River. Military headquarters reported only light damage and there was no report of hits on the river fleet of assault craft that includes armored monitors, tank landing ships and smaller assault boats.

The base, 50 miles south of Saigon, is surrounded by territory largely under Viet Cong influence and has been shelled six times since the U. S. troops moved in last January.

The U. S. Command also disclosed that a brigade of the 1st Air Cavalry Division has been shifted into the five northern provinces of the 1st Corps area below the 17th parallel demilitarized zone.

This puts four Army brigades into the southern part of the zone, which was previously held by U. S. Marines. The Marines were recently shifted farther north to meet the North Vietnamese threat along the DMZ, where the Red command can call upon some 35,000 troops.

Several Problems
He said "There's not one problem but a number of them. The waiting-time problem is one of the things we want to get settled... and there's a number of other things that I don't want to go into. We'll stay as long as we need to."

Ohio, Maryland, Michigan, New Jersey, New York and West Virginia joined Pennsylvania in sending governor's representatives.

The strikers, independent truckers who own their rigs, have rebelled against a national contract reached through the teamsters. They want better terms, and a separate contract for owner-operators. The union has refused to recognize the strike.

The highways were relatively calm Sunday, compared with violence that reached a peak more than a week ago with 40 incidents in 24 hours along the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Tractor Dynamited
Pennsylvania troopers said a tractor parked near a diner in New Kensington, Pa., was dynamited, destroying the cab. Troopers arrested a man at the Bedford interchange of the turnpike when he refused to move his car which was blocking a tractor-trailer loaded with steel tubing.

In western Pennsylvania, along with eastern Ohio a hotbed of violence, state police substations were beefed up by troopers from areas not affected by the strike. State police cruisers also were escorting tractor-trailer convoys.

The strikers, numbering some 10,000 to 20,000, want their fee increased from 73 per cent of the freight charge to 79 per cent. They also want to be paid $15 an hour for the time they spend waiting in mills to be loaded beyond the first two hours.

The strike, which began at Gary, Ind., has disrupted steel production. Steelmakers cut back production, laid off workers and turned from trucks to rail in an effort to meet customers' orders. Iron age magazine estimated that the nation's steel production was cut 30 per cent by the strike.

Beer Party Ends Up as Gun Battle

nearby barn, which apparently had been the target of gunfire from the house before police arrived. They included a woman whose leg was shattered by a shotgun blast.

Harvey said the gun battle started after an all-day drinking party held by half a dozen motorcycle gangs from the Detroit area, which he said included "The Highwaymen," "Vikings," "Nightriders," the "SS Men," and "God's Little Children."

Brief Argument
Witnesses told police there had been a brief argument earlier in the evening when a member of one gang pulled a gun on another gang member. The flare-up settled down, they said, but then shouting erupted a couple of hours later. Police found two wounded men in a car parked inside the barn, one on the front seat and one on the back. The woman was lying on the floor of the back seat.

Police confiscated several 22-caliber rifles and a number of handguns from the house but found no firearms in the barn.

Between 100 and 150 persons had attended the party, the sheriff said.

Liquor Sales Drop

British Drivers Miffed By 'Breathalyser' Tests

LONDON (AP) — Curbside can be used as evidence in breath tests to catch drunken drivers began today amid complaints from British motorists.

Bars in many parts of Britain reported a sharp drop in business Sunday night. Traffic in London's normally busy West End nearly disappeared.

The tests were pushed by Transport Minister Barbara Castle, who had already irked drivers by clamping a 70-mile-an-hour speed limit on the nation's previously unrestricted highway. Mrs. Castle condition to pass a breath test does not drive.

London police with "breathalyzers," plastic bags containing chemical crystals that change color when exposed to alcohol fumes, made their first test in front of Buckingham Palace, the Queen's home. The driver passed and was let go.

Three Tested
But for three of 13 other drivers who were stopped and asked to breathe into the bags during the night, the devices gave readings of more than 80 milligrams of alcohol per 100 milligrams of blood.

Under the new law, this means a trip to the police station for a blood or urine test. A test is not by itself sufficient to too-high reading in these tests (convict a driver of being drunk).

Asbestos Heir

Off-Married Manville Dies With 11th Bride at His Side

NEW YORK (AP) — Tommy Manville, playboy of the Roaring 20's and Depression 30's whose marriages and monetary settlements made headlines for almost five decades, died Sunday of a heart attack. He was 73.

With him at the end was his 11th and last wife, the former Christina Erdlen, 26, at their Westchester County residence in Chappaqua, some 30 miles north of Manhattan.

Manville took his first wife, a chorus girl, in 1911 when he was 17, and his last in 1960. He married twice, was divorced 10 times, and widowed once. He was heir to a $10 million asbestos fortune, and his divorce settlements cost him in the neighborhood of $1.5 million.

"Marrying Manville" was no misnomer for the son of the founder and chairman of the Johns-Manville Corp. He had a decided, and oft-announced, penchant for showgirls, squiring dozens and marrying five of them.

'Can't Live Alone'
Manville, during his hectic nightclubbing and pursuit of beautiful women, once said, "I'm too lonely—I just can't live alone... The first thing I say to a girl is 'Will you marry me' and the second thing is 'How do you do?'"

Manville's only known job followed his first marriage—to showgirl Florence Huber under a Broadway marriage.

The bridegroom's father, then traveling in Europe, shut the family exchequer against him and said he would have the marriage annulled when he returned home. Manville arranged a second wedding in New Jersey.

Young Thomas Franklin Manville Jr. took a $15-a-week job in the family's Pittsburgh gas factory in order to make ends meet.

His first marriage lasted 11 years, although a separation in 1917 continued until divorce in 1922.

In September 1925, Manville took his father's 22-year-old stenographer, Lois Arline McCain, as his second wife. The next month his father died and left him a fifth of a $50-million estate.

Deserted Wife
The second wife charged Manville with desertion and received a settlement of $19,000 a year. She died in 1929.

He took as his third bride, Avonne Taylor, a Ziegfeld Follies girl, in May 1931. They were separated after 34 days and were divorced that November.

Manville's fourth trip to the altar was with Marcelle Edwards, an actress, in 1933. They were divorced in 1937.

After a 17-day courtship in 1941, he married Bonita Edwards, a Cafe Society beauty. A divorce was granted after one month.

Manville's sixth wife was Wilhelmina Boze. They married in 1942 and were divorced in 1943. In August 1943, he married his seventh wife, Macie Marie Ainsworth, a chorus girl. Seven hours and 45 minutes after the ceremony it was announced that the bride would head for Reno.

A 1945 marriage to Georgina Campbell, a writer, produced plenty of headlines, squabbles, separations and reconciliations. She agreed to stay away from Manville for $1,000 a month. She was killed in an automobile accident in 1952 while en route to have breakfast with him.

His ninth marriage was to Anita Frances Roddy-Eden, a dancer, in July 1952. In August she obtained a Mexican divorce and accepted $100,000 in lieu of alimony.

His 10th marriage, to showgirl Patricia Gaston, lasted from May to November 1957. Though the records are confused, there reportedly were two remarriages among the 10.

One of Manville's sisters, Lorraine, was divorced four times by the time she died at age 63 in 1959. Another sister, Estelle, was married to Count Folke Bernadotte of the Swedish royal family. He was killed by terrorists in Jerusalem in 1948.

Manville married Miss Erdlen, a German-born waitress, in 1960. She suffered a miscarriage in 1961. It would have been Manville's first child.

The funeral will be private.

and modest greatness to our public affairs."

President Johnson said Attlee "was a strong defender and champion of democracy and freedom. As a political leader and a creative humanitarian, he earned the admiration and respect of the entire world."

Attlee was first elected to Parliament in 1922 and was leader of the Labor party from 1935 to 1955, the longest tenure in the party's history. In 1940 he became Winston Churchill's deputy prime minister in a wartime coalition Cabinet.

In July 1945, Attlee led Labor to a sweeping election landslide seen as a mandate for domestic reconstruction in war-torn Britain. During his six years in office he instituted national health service and insurance plans, nationalized the steel industry, the Bank of England, the gas industry and public transport.

Youth, Area Groups to Assist With Pancake Day Benefit

The annual Community Pancake Day has been scheduled Oct. 21 at St. Mary Catholic School. Proceeds from the event, sponsored by the Golden Age Club Board of Directors, Civic League and Welcome Wagon Newcomers, will go to the Golden Age Club, a Red Feather Agency. Several other area groups will assist at the day-long event.

Pancakes, applesauce and sausages will be served from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Bazaar items, Christmas decorations, baked goods and home-made candy will also be sold. Games will be featured for children.

Assisting with the serving this year will be the newly organized Newcomer Teens, daughters of families new to Appleton whose parents are members of the Welcome Wagon Newcomers. These 23 young women plan social activities, tour places of interest in the community and help out at such activities as Pancake Day.

W'sconsin Telephone Co. personnel will work in the kitchen with Walter Dobratz and John Donohue.

Xavier Key Club members and a group of fraternity men from Lawrence University will also help with serving and clean-up.

Committee members are Mrs. Charles Seter and Mrs. David Sanger, Civic League tickets; Mrs. Kenneth Prindle and Mrs. John Gibbons, Golden Age Tickets; Mrs. John Koopman and Mrs. George Pluemer, bake sale; Mrs. Elinor Anderson, Variety Fair; Mrs. LaMoine McMahon, bazaar; Mrs. Harold Sprague, Christmas decorations, and Mrs. Fred Burdette, candy.

Tickets for the event may be purchased from members of sponsoring organizations or at the door.

Sheinwold Turn on Light After Shutout Bid

ALFRED SHEINWOLD Making a shutout bid is like turning out the lights: both sides must then operate in the dark when the time comes to play the cards in such a hand, try to turn the lights back on before you commit yourself.

South ruffed the opening spade and drew the sole missing trump by leading a low trump to dummy's eight. Then he ruffed dummy's remaining spade and led out the ace of diamonds and a low diamond.

West had to play the ten on the second round of diamonds, and East overtook with the jack of diamonds and returned the king of diamonds and returned the king of clubs.

South now had enough light to plan the rest of the hand. West had showed up with a strong spade suit and the king of diamonds. If West also had the king of clubs he would have opened with one spade instead of three spades. The odds were overwhelming that East had the king of clubs.

Your Problems

Teen-Age Girl Seeks Advice to End Unfortunate Relationship

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a 16-year-old girl who has a problem that is too big for me. I don't know quite how to say this so I will come right out in plain English and tell you that my best friend is a lesbian.

Elsie (which is not her name) moved to our neighborhood last December. She was almost two years older than I but we got along fine. When she began to move to Washington last year, that's how we were reunited, said Mrs. Milliken, but she kept buying things anyway. When she started telephoning every night to find out what I was doing the next day so she could chauffeur me, that really made me uneasy.

My mother asked several questions about Elsie which should have opened my eyes, but I was too dumb to catch on. Mom wondered why Elsie never had a date, why she seemed so possessive of me and why she was so critical of every fellow I went out with.

Last week Elsie slept at my house and I learned the truth. I was dumfounded and I'm still in a daze. Now I wonder if people think something is wrong with me, too, because I have been so chummy with her.

I hate to be cruel but I don't want Elsie as a best friend anymore. Will you please give me a few facts on this subject. It is all such a mystery to me. Should I tell my mother? — Shook Up

Dear Shook: There is no need to tell anyone. Cool the friendship and see Elsie only when others are present. Don't accept any more gifts from her and don't allow her to drive you any place.

Try to understand that the girl's deviate behavior is a result of an emotional illness. She did not choose to be this way. Some lesbians are content, others lead lonely and tortured lives. I always recommend psychiatric help when such people write to me. Although counseling rarely sets them straight, it gives them insight and it helps them to accept themselves.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 60. My husband is 62. For the last 40 years Egbert has gone fishing or hunting every weekend plus every day he has not had to work Birthdays, anniversaries, graduations, weddings, church, meant nothing to him. Camping came first, so I accepted the idea and never complained because I knew he loved camping so. Now that the children are gone, Egbert wants me to go camping with him. I have tried to be a been a good wife for 40 years by allowing Egbert to put camping ahead of everything. Now let him be a good husband and respect your need for comfort.

Denver Setting for Ceremony

DENVER, Colo.—Miss Kathleen Ann Kremer became the bride of William Townes Wiley in a candlelight ceremony Sept. 30 at Christ Chapel of Augustana Lutheran Church. The Rev. Dr. Paul H. A. Noren officiated.

Mrs. Wiley is the daughter of fighting insects and listening to animals howl all night is not my idea of relaxation. I would rather stay at home (where I have good plumbing) and work in my garden.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Averill J. Wiley, Appleton.

Miss Francis Louise Clardy, I have refused to go with him as his maid of honor. Serving as best man was the bridegroom's brother, John Wiley, Waukesha. Thomas Williams, Appleton, was an usher.

Volleyball is scheduled from 5 to 9 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday a league will be organized. Classes have also been scheduled from 9 to 10 a.m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and from 1:30 to 2:15 p.m. Tuesday.

A jogging class has been scheduled for 10 to 10:45 a.m. first day of class.

Pair 'Wed' 65 Years Ago Really Married This Time

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (AP)—After 65 years Wilma Savers Miliken and Timothy J. Wise, a first woman mayor married a high school classmate. Wise, a carver, did a very familiar thing they got married again. They were only 4 years old when they first wed in a make-believe 'Tom Thumb Wedding' play. It was complete with a host of bridesmaids and ushers in the old Waynesburg opera house.

The couple exchanged marriage vows again Saturday—this time for real in the First Presbyterian Church.

Milwaukee Marchers Continue Relentlessly

'...Gonna Keep on A-Walkin' Down to Freedom Land...'

BY JACKIE KRUG
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MILWAUKEE — "Ain't gonna let nobody turn me 'round, gonna keep on a-walkin' down to freedom land..."

The words of the marching song sung by Milwaukee open housing demonstrators expresses their nearly unbelievable determination. With the number of consecutive days of marching now numbering in the 40's, there are no signs of fatigue or frustration among members of the Milwaukee Council of the NAACP youth organization.

Organization is the keynote of demonstrations led by the youth council under the advisiorship of the Rev. James Groppi of St. Boniface Catholic Parish. There is no time for anything slipshod, for any clowning. March leaders will not tolerate it.

The strength behind the Milwaukee NAACP youth council is the highly organized commando unit. Some of them are high school students, some of them are of high school age but have left school and are working, some range in the 20 to 22 age group.

Karate Training

They have been trained in judo and karate and execute their job of leading the demonstrations with military precision. It is the commandos who, with the advice of Father Groppi, plan the marches.

A head commando is selected weekly on a rotating basis. It is his responsibility to decide where each march will go. He alone knows the destination.

Prelude to each march is a rally, usually held in the sanctuary of St. Boniface church. Demonstrators fill the pews and respond to rally leaders with freedom songs and loud shouts of "Black Power."

A young girl with a microphone and blasting PA system belts Negro "soul" songs adapted to the open housing movement and invites demonstrators to clap and join in the singing. "See that," she points to the beautiful vaulted ceiling of the sanctuary, "we want to raise the roof in here."

And the trick is nearly accomplished with deafening choruses of the spiritual "Amen" and the chant, "beep, beep, umgauwa, black power."

Commando Speeches

Speeches by commandos, sometimes Father Groppi and the testimony of the leaders of out of town groups that have come to join the marches follow the singing. The fever pitch of the group builds from the rally's rather quiet beginning to the fantastic noisy show of enthusiasm just prior to the beginning of the march and is climaxed by a long impromptu prayer.

Marchers are lined up three abreast across the sidewalk and less than arm's length from the trio ahead. Commandos are spaced at intervals along the line in the street and move with the march.

They pace the march admonishing demonstrators to "keep it tight," "keep it moving," and because they leave an opening for hostile outsiders and because they cause marchers to run to close the line adding the danger of injury to marchers.

Safety of the demonstrators is the primary concern of the commandos. At street intersections they are stationed in front of waiting cars until the march has passed. In doorways where spectators have gathered to watch the phenomena, commandos stand arms crossed, feet apart, staring expressionless into the eyes of watchers until demonstrators have moved on safely.

Searched Boys

At the beginning of Saturday's march, commandos spotted a group of about six Negro boys walking on the opposite side of the street. They were questioned and searched to see if they carried any bottles, bricks or other things that, if thrown, could cause an incident and danger to the marchers across the street.

Much of the march route is hardly a pleasant sight. The near northside slums are crowded and dirty. In a space between two of the decaying homes garbage cans and crates overflow with assorted refuse. Several large rats use the area as a playground.

Each block has at least one

K-C Will Sell Division to Saxon Paper

Transaction for BM&T Subject to Court Approval

NEENAH — Kimberly-Clark Corp. has completed arrangements for the sale of its Blake, Moffitt and Towne Division to Saxon Paper Corp., involving approximately $22.5 million. The final closing should take place early in 1968, the two companies announced.

BM&T is a wholesale distributor of printing and industrial paper products that operates a number of warehouses and sales offices throughout the western United States. The firm's headquarters is in San Francisco.

The sale followed an order issued in May of this year by the U.S. District Court in San Francisco that Kimberly-Clark acquisition of BM & T was in violation of the Clayton Antitrust Act. BM & T had operated as the division of Kimberly-Clark since its purchase by the worldwide paper and paper products company in 1961.

Subject to Approval

The sale is subject to approval of the court in San Francisco and the U.S. Department of Justice.

Saxon, a New York City-based wholesaler of fine paper and paper products, distributes its products primarily to printers, publishers and stationers on the east coast. Myron P. Berman, chairman and president of Sax-

The Intensity of the Involvement of persons at a NAACP youth organization rally preceeding open housing marches in Milwaukee is shown on the faces of these Lawrence University students who participated in Saturday and Sunday marches. The Appleton group of about 25 students, led by David Chambers, Student Senate president, second from right, joined Milwaukee and other out-of-town groups as a demonstration of a senate resolution passed last week supporting the efforts of the Rev. James Groppi in seeking an open housing ordinance for Milwaukee's ghetto Negroes. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Liquor Firm Seeks 10 Acres Of Port Land

Site Wanted for Future Expansion, City Officials Told

Fox Valley Liquor Co., Inc. has notified Appleton and Outagamie County officials that it is interested in obtaining a 10-acre site at the old airport property for expansion purposes.

Gene B. Weiland, president of the firm which is headquartered at 1802 W. Wisconsin Ave., disclosed future plans in a letter to City Clerk Elden Brochm.

Copies were also sent to the Appleton Area Chamber of Commerce and the Outagamie County Board, the latter meeting later this month.

Stay in City

"We herewith submit to you this offer to purchase approximately a 10 acre tract of land at the old Outagamie County Airport site when the said land becomes available," Weiland wrote.

"We are desirous of purchasing this land as soon as possible so that we may proceed at once with our expansion program, which we prefer to be here in Appleton," Weiland added.

Fox Valley Liquor Company is the second firm in the same number of weeks indicating interest in building at the airport, which is owned by the county but located in the city and will require rezoning.

Sell Entire Parcel

There has been considerable pressure on the county to sell off parcels of the port property but the county board wants to dispose of the entire 153 acres at once. There have been no takers and the county is looking to the city to buy the land.

However, the city has indicated it is willing to negotiate the purchase price and terms because "there is a sense of urgency" for a new industrial park on the city's far northeast side.

The city council's land negotiation committee has been directed by the council to meet with county officials as soon as possible to begin negotiations so the matter can be brought before the county board for a vote.

On-Site Funds For Campus At GB Asked

MADISON—The State Building Commission will be asked today to approve a $73,600 request for the first actual on-site development work for two planned campuses of the University of Wisconsin in Green Bay and Kenosha County.

The request gained approval earlier today at a meeting of the commission's University Affairs Subcommittee.

The extent of opposition to be raised by opponents of Green Bay campus development backing objections raised by Appleton area spokesmen, is as yet unknown.

Under the proposal the Green Bay campus would gain $39,100 investigators said entry into the site preparation and excavation work. The work would be done in preparation for actual foundation construction expected next spring.

9-County Zoning Ordinance Presented to Commission

Model Is Preliminary, Will be Modified by Individual Counties

A comprehensive model shoreline and flood plane zoning ordinance was presented for discussion this morning by members of the Northeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission (NWRPC) meeting at the Home Mutual Building.

The model was prepared by the staff of the NWRPC and was designed to aid counties in preparing their own ordinances required by state law on Jan. 1, 1968.

William E. Morris, executive director of the NWRPC said the model ordinance would have to be modified to meet the individual needs of each of the counties in the organization.

The counties include Calumet, Forest, Menominee, Langlade, Outagamie, Shawano, Waupaca, Waushara and Winnebago.

Report Is Preliminary

Morris stressed that the report of the model was only preliminary and would need further work before it is ready for passage by county boards.

The ordinance itself outlines shoreline zoning regulations for areas within 1,000 feet of the normal high water elevation of a lake, pond or flowage; 300 feet from the normal high water elevation of a river or stream; and 300 feet from the shoreline of existing and future artificial public waterways.

The model goes into considerable detail on general shoreline zoning provisions. It also outlines provisions and jurisdiction the counties will have over flood plain areas.

Administrative procedures for the ordinance will be the same as those used under existing zoning ordinances in Menominee, Outagamie and Winnebago counties.

Serve as Amendment

The model ordinance will serve as a possible amendment to existing zoning ordinances in these counties, which do not currently meet state requirements.

Richard J. Steinbrink, Green Bay, chairman of the region 3 Pollution Advisory Board, said the ordinance would deal with

Guilty of Forgeries

Teen-Agers Sentenced For Purse Snatchings

One Oshkosh youth was placed under welfare custody and another has a boys school sentence pending in connection with their involvement last summer in 30 offenses, including numerous purse snatchings in Appleton, Oshkosh, Neenah, Menasha, and Fond du Lac.

The boys, ages 16 and 17, appeared before Judge James G. Sarres of the Winnebago County Juvenile Court. Both were found delinquent during court hearings last August. Sentencing was delayed pending an investigation by the State Department of Health and Social Services.

One boy was placed under custody of the state agency until he is 21 years old, and the other medical expenses.

A Cool and Windy Day marked the groundbreaking ceremony for the new Moses Montefiore sanctuary-fellowship center Sunday. Helping Rabbi Gilbert Silverstein, front, with the task are, from left, Tany Agronin, building committee co-chairman; Eli Fielkow, a member of the congregation; Arnold Cohodas, co-chairman; and Maynard Burstein, chairman of the board of the congregation. Also present were Nathan Burstein, special gifts chairman, and Al Ziven, fund raising chairman. Other facilities will include classrooms, a small chapel, ladies parlor, kitchen and a youth center. Summer of 1968 has been set as the completion date. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Appleton Could Face $7 Tax Rate Increase

Hike Based On Education Figures Only

Based on budget requests of two educational boards — and not considering the needs of other city departments and boards for the coming year — the 1968 Appleton tax rate could increase by at least $7.05.

This was the state of finances as the city council's finance committee made preparations to meet tonight for the first in a series of budget review sessions.

The overall city operations budget this year, including school purposes, was $16 million, calling for a $56.22 tax rate.

"I won't have a complete, summary of 1968 budget requests from all boards, departments and agencies for at least another week — but on the face of things it is not encouraging," commented Finance Director Henry W. Schreve.

Urge Hold Taxes

His remarks followed on the heels of a statement by H. H. Kositzke, president of the Appleton Taxpayers Association, calling for action to hold the line on a tax increase next year.

The finance committee is headed by Ald. Alvin E. Tews (5th) and includes Mayor George Buckley, Alds. James Bethke (9th), R. P. Groh (8th), Al Stoegebauer (4th) and John Stiedl (18th).

"Only a few of the smaller city hall department budget requests will be looked over tonight," Schreve said, adding that the main push will be on next week.

While Schreve could not estimate the total of all municipal requests, he did say enough information was available to make "a few good observations."

School Budgets

They related to the Appleton Public School system's request for $6.9 million to operate the schools in 1968, the sum calling for a $5.5 million tax levy; and

Buckley Vows To Fight Hike

Mayor George Buckley vowed today to do "everything possible" to prevent Appleton's 1968 tax rate from skyrocketing.

The mayor made his position known after it was disclosed two educational budgets alone call for a rate increase of over $7.05.

"I would say the budget examining committee has its work cut out," Buckley declared. "It is obvious reductions will have to be made."

Buckley serves as a member of the finance committee which is actually the budget review board.

"The property tax rate in Appleton is at the saturation point," Buckley declared. "I know the people just can't take it any more."

Support Committee

The mayor indicated he would support the budget committee in any reductions it made in budgets of various municipal boards, departments, agencies and commissions.

Ald. Alvin E. Tews (5th), finance chairman, said his reaction to the requests to date would prompt his group to take a harder look at proposed appropriations than ever before.

"However, there is the educational budgets where cuts cannot be made and this presents a problem," Tews declared.

He said the Vocational School in capital improvement projects of the school board cannot be made every year.

"Let's say we will give a hard look but don't expect any miracles at this point," Tews asserted.

He said his Vocational School district request represented a major problem.

That White Stuff You See May be Snow

A couple of days of rain in the Fox Cities area might be capped tonight by the season's first snow which is expected to be mixed in with intermittent showers.

Light snow fell Sunday in Wisconsin's far north, from Superior to Hurley.

But don't expect the snow to last long enough for skiing, since the expected 35-degree low should quickly melt it.

The remainder of the state also has been reminded of the directories will actually be coming winter with low temperatures, drizzle and cold rain time. A Milwaukee printing firm maintains standing galleys of type which are altered as changes occur with staggered deliveries to cities throughout the year.

Van Sistine said that paper, one of the major items purchased for the directory, is selected by specially trained personnel from Western Electric Co., manufacturing and supply unit of Bell.

The special lightweight and thin paper, "Telen Directory Paper," allows the books to be manageable and yet opaque enough to minimize print showing through.

The manager said that subscribers who do not receive their new directories by Oct. 30 should contact the local telephone company business office.

Service Cables Near Appleton Home Burn

Appleton firemen were called to the home of Mrs. Eunice G. Schanke, 420 E. Murray St., at 12:30 a.m. today when electric service cables leading into the house caught fire.

Firemen said the small blaze scorched a portion of the house near where the cable enters.

Ald. Beyer Has Heart Attack

Ald. Norman Beyer (20th) suffered an apparent heart attack at his home Sunday noon and was taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital where his condition today appeared to be fair.

Beyer, 1722 W. Spring St., is serving his second term on the city council and is chairman of its Commerce and Industrial Development Committee.

He was a co-chairman of the College Avenue dedication pro-

$20 Million Monthly Dues Hike

Restocked Union Coffers Make Extended Auto Strike Possible

DETROIT (AP) — Armed with a dues increase that will pump $20 million a month into his union's strike fund, United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther says the 34-day-old strike against Ford Motor Co. could stretch into the industry's longest.

The longest automotive strike lasted 119 days in 1945-46 and was called against General Motors Corp., by the UAW to support wage demands.

It was UAW wage and fringe demands in the new contract which triggered the strike at Ford.

A special UAW convention Sunday voted an emergency increase in dues from $5 to $25 monthly for most of its 1.4 million members.

Reuther returns to the bargaining table with Ford today in search of a new contract he hopes to carry later to GM and Chrysler for matching or bettering.

More than 2,400 convention delegates cheered when told the emergency increase was needed to win at Ford and "possible strikes at Chrysler, General Motors and other large companies." They passed the dues increase overwhelmingly.

Asked at a post-convention news conference if the strike fund was being beefed up to support a General Motors strike later, Reuther replied: "It's not directed against any specific corporation, but it could include GM."

Reuther also told the news conference that "if there is no significant change in the company's attitude in the next week or ten days, Ford Motor Co. will have made a policy decision to force a long strike."

And in that case, he said, "it might equal or exceed the one we had at General Motors."

Henry Ford has said that what he terms the UAW's "unconscionable" demands are responsible for the strike. One industry executive has estimated it would take an additional $4 hourly per worker to meet all union wage and fringe demands, compared with the current package of wages and benefits of $4.70 hourly per worker.

The union scoffs at the $4 figure, but has put no dollars and cents figures on its demands, which include a guaranteed increase, a substantial wage increase and higher pensions.

Reuther insists that Ford refuses to bargain "within the framework of the company's increased productivity or profitability" and that his 160,000 Ford members are prepared to stay out "as long as necessary" to win.

The emergency dues increase will be continued until new contracts are reached with the Big Three automakers and the union's strike fund had been built up to at least $25 million.

UAW members who make $3 or more an hour will pay $25 a month. Those making between $2 and $2.99 an hour will pay $15 a month and the handful making less than $2 an hour will pay the current $5 rate.

Earl Mazey, UAW secretary-treasurer, reported that the international strike fund, which stood at $67 million at the beginning of the Ford strike Sept. 7, was down to $51.6 million Oct. 6.

He said the Ford strike was draining $5.2 million from the fund; that a Chrysler strike would cost $3.2 million weekly and that a strike against GM would cost $12 million weekly. These costs include strike benefits of $20 to $30 weekly plus hospital-medical and life insurance premiums.

Early Spring Prediction Of Almanac

DUBLIN, N.H. (AP) — The big January storm of 1967 will be repeated in 1968, but next spring will be early and sunny, the Farmer's Almanac says.

Predicting the weather a year in advance is the principal claim to fame for the publication, now in its 176th edition.

The almanac accurately forecast last year the end of the drought in New England during 1967 and the January storm this year which was a blizzard in the Middle West and heavy rains in New England.

Abe Weatherwise, the Almanac's weather forecaster, predicts that 1968 will be marked by nice spring weather, interrupted only by a major storm from Chicago to New England in late April.

Abe Weatherwise is the pen name of Robb Sagendorph and Rob Trowbridge who publish the almanac. They use a secret formula, current atmospheric data and charts dating to 1802 in plotting the forecasts.

Superior Army Tank to be Put On Public Display

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Army tank that operates better under water than previous models and supposedly can outshoot, outmaneuver and outrun any known armored vehicle is going on display.

The so-called MBT70 was to be shown today to the Association of the United States Army, a nongovernment Army booster organization.

The tank with its 152 mm Shillelagh missile is intended to be the main armored weapon of the United States and possibly all North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries in the 1970s. It has been under development since 1963 by the United States and West Germany.

It has often been discussed publicly but never before unveiled in public.

Too Many Requests

LONDON (AP) — Ticket applications for the maiden voyage in 1969 of the 58,000-ton Cunard liner Queen Elizabeth II, now being built on the River Clyde, already total more than 5,000 for the 2,205 berths, a line spokesman reported.

Republican Senator's Warning

Danger Seen in Demeaning Commander-in-Chief Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hugh Scott, a Republican moderate, endorsed President Johnson's Vietnam policies to own trust and confidence in the day and said "it is imperative that we do not undermine the stature of the President as commander-in-chief and as the nation's chief diplomat."

He said the Republican Party should not "misconceive its role as to become a peace at any price" party.

The Pennsylvania said he supports present policy because "I know of no better alternative."

His position contrasts with recent criticism of Johnson and his policies from such GOP moderates as Sens. Charles H. Percy of Illinois, Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky and Clifford P. Case of New Jersey, and Gov. George Romney of Michigan.

But it follows Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen's defense of Johnson policies and his recent warning against demeaning Johnson.

Scott's remarks were in a speech prepared for Senate delivery.

Scott said charges of a credibility gap in administration statements on Vietnam "can be remedied by greater candor with the American people within the legitimate bounds of national security.

But he concluded: "Above all, I shall continue to plead for trust in the President out of the deep conviction that the maintenance of trust and confidence is essential to the integrity of the office, at home and abroad."

A former president, Dwight D. Eisenhower, said Saturday he is supporting a new organization called "Committee for Peace with Freedom in Vietnam." He named former Illinois Sen. Paul H. Douglas as a prime organizer. Douglas said only that a policy statement has been signed by 40 to 50 persons but is not ready for release.

Eisenhower said signers include former Gen. Lucius Clay and Omar Bradley.

Not Political

His constituents, Scott said, have had a change of attitude away from approval of the conduct of the war. But he said: "The war in Vietnam is not, and must not become, a political issue."

He said, however, "I personally do not enjoy defending Lyndon Johnson. I will do everything in my power to make sure that this country has a new commander-in-chief."

Now Possible To Shrink Painful Hemorrhoids

And Promptly Stop The Itching, Relieve Pain In Most Cases.

New York, N. Y. (Special): A scientific research institute has discovered a medication which has the ability in most cases — to actually shrink hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from the itching, burning and pain. Then this medication starts right in to gently reduce the swelling of inflamed, irritated hemorrhoids.

Tests conducted on hundreds of patients by leading doctors in New York City, in Washington, D.C. and at a Midwest Medical Center proved this so.

And it was all accomplished without narcotics or stinging astringents of any kind.

The secret is Preparation H® — an exclusive formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids. There is no other formula like it! In addition to actually shrinking piles and relieving the painful distress — Preparation H lubricates, makes bowel movements less painful and soothes the irritated tissues. It also helps prevent further infection.

Preparation H comes in ointment or suppository form. No prescription is needed.

Man Held in Bludgeon Deaths Socialite Slain in Hippieland

NEW YORK (AP) — A 26-year-old man was arrested today in the bludgeon murders of a teen-age daughter of a wealthy Greenwich, Conn. family and a long-haired, tattooed man, whose bodies were found Sunday in the boiler room of a hippie tenement.

Donald Ramsey, a Negro laborer who lives in the building, was booked on two charges of homicide after a long interrogation. Asst. Dist. Atty. Daniel Harris said.

Authorities gave no other background on Ramsey nor details of the arrest.

The couple's nude bodies, about 10 feet apart, lay face down on a concrete floor. Their heads had been severely battered. Blood stains were on the floor and walls.

Fitzpatrick, president of the Knickerbocker Mills, a tea and spice import firm at Totowa, N.J. Her home was a 30-room mansion.

The man, who had a police record in both New York City and New England, was identified as James Leroy Hutchinson, 21, of Central Falls, R.I.

Near the victims lay a brick wrapped in a pair of men's trousers. The couple's clothing lay folded on the floor near the door.

Dr. Elliott M. Gross, who performed the autopsies, said the couple died of multiple blows on the head "with a blunt instrument consistent with the brick."

Gross said he was unable to determine immediately if the girl had been raped.

Lived Nearby

Freddie Wright, assistant superintendent of the five-story building on Avenue B, between 10th and 11th streets, found the bodies.

Hutchinson kept a room nearby on 11th Street, police said.

The Fitzpatrick girl's family said she was attending school in New York but did not identify the school.

Hutchinson's body was heavily tattooed. On one arm were the words "Bourbon Street, New Orleans," the swinging street in that city's French Quarter.

Hutchinson was indicted Feb. 12, 1966, in New Bedford, Mass., on charges of unlicensed possession of a dangerous weapon, disturbing the peace and assault and battery.

Last April 27, he was arrested in New York on charges of impairing the morals of a minor and illegal possession of drugs.

The cases in both states were pending.

Asked if the murder victims were hippies, Asst. Chief Inspector Joseph McLaughlin said, "Well, they were found in the environment of it, and in the area of it, and they were young people. You could classify them as being in that category, but we can't say positively."

French Humorist, Biographer Andre Maurois Dies at 82

PARIS (AP) — Andre Maurois, whose humor-filled interpretations of British character launched him on a literary career, died today. He was 82.

Maurois had undergone surgery for intestinal blockage two weeks ago. He was taken from a hospital this morning and died at his home nearby.

Born into a family of Jewish textile-makers, Maurois was well on the way to becoming an industrialist when World War I changed the course of his life.

He served as a liaison and intelligence agent with the British forces and was quickly adopted into their ranks.

'Colonel Bramble'

From his associations with the British officer corps came his first book, "Les Silences du Colonel Bramble." His sympathetic accounts of the only barely fictional Col. Bramble, outwardly calm and taciturn under fire, were an immediate success in France.

Another work, "Les Discours du Dr. O'Grady" was in the same theme and established Maurois as a best-selling novelist.

Maurois took a different role in World War II, when after joining Gen. Charles de Gaulle's Free French forces, he went to the United States and became a principal spokesman for French culture and civilization.

Milk Carton Plant Of American Can May Close Down

Shut-Down of Cecil Street Facility Would be Part of Over-All Change

NEENAH — The milk carton plant on Cecil St. tentatively will be closed down on Jan. 1, American Can Company said today. The closing will be part of an overall plan for expansion of the Neenah plant.

A spokesman for American Can said the number of employees affected "is not large." The closing will not have an economic effect on the community.

The spokesman indicated that jobs in different areas of work in

Advances Top Market Drops

Purchasing Agents Take Optimistic Look at 12 Months

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced briskly in active trading early this afternoon.

Advances topped declines among individual stocks by more than 200 issues.

An encouraging factor was a report that corporation purchasing executives view the economic outlook for the next 12 months more optimistically than they did a year ago.

Steels, rubbers, farm implements, aircrafts, oils and tobaccos were mostly higher. Motors and rails were generally lower.

Fractional Changes

Changes of most key issues were fractional but a few ranged to a point or so and there were some wider swings by issues involved in special situations.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon was up 6.01 at 934.75.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon had gained .5 to 337.7 with industrials up 2.6, rails off 1.0 and utilities off .1. Transiron was actively traded and declined 3 points after reporting lower earnings.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange.

COG Meeting Delayed 2 Weeks

This month's meeting of the Fox Valley Council of Governments (COG) has been postponed to Oct. 24 in order to allow COG members more time to discuss the COG's proposed $225,000 area water study.

The regular monthly meeting had been scheduled for Wednesday, but Council President Laurel Heaney said he postponed the meeting so Council members could discuss the study and the $75,000 proposed levy for it with their respective municipal and town boards.

A vote on approval for the study is expected at the Council's Oct. 24 meeting.

Appleton Man Found Guilty of Bad Conduct After Bar Disturbance

Julius C. Davids, 29, 425 E. Murray St., was fined $50 and costs or 24 days in jail this morning after he pleaded guilty, in Outagamie County Court, Branch 2, to a disorderly conduct charge brought after a disturbance Sunday night in a southside Appleton bar.

Police were called to the Sugar Bowl, 1216 S. Oneida St., at 8:50 p.m.

Police said that about two hours earlier, they were called to a fight on E. Harrison Street, in front of a laundromat. They said that Davids and a woman had been fighting. Davids, who had been drinking, was released with a warning after the first disturbance.

Appleton Youth Placed Under Apostolate for Burglary Involvement

A 16-year-old Appleton boy, who was involved in a July 8 burglary at the S. C. Shannon Co. warehouse, has been placed under the supervision of the Appleton Apostolate for one year after Outagamie County Judge Raymond P. Dohr of the juvenile court withheld a finding of delinquency.

Two 17-year-old youths have been waived from juvenile court jurisdiction and have pleaded innocent of their parts in the burglary which netted 120 cartons of cigarettes. Their cases, are pending in Outagamie County Court Branch 1.

The 16-year-old was ordered by Judge Dohr to make his share of restitution, totaling $21. The youth was brought into court following investigation by Appleton detectives.

the plant are being sought for the men of the milk carton plant.

Additional space is needed for other Neenah plant operations, he said.

Plans call for the relocation of certain equipment in the milk plant. Much of the equipment will be used for other purposes, although specific use was not disclosed.

A large portion of the carton business is more heavily concentrated in the eastern and southern parts of the United States. American Can has other carton plants in Pennsylvania and Jackson, Miss., the spokesman said.

'Duck' Turns On Hunters In Menasha

MENASHA — The "Duck" turned on the hunters Sunday.

Police received complaints from Mrs. Gottfried J. Rivierson, 117 River Street, that shotgun pellets were hitting her house, coming from the guns of hunters on James Island.

Officers investigated and found the hunters were "shooting in any direction and at anything." They used a loudspeaker to warn the hunters, but were ignored. The shooting continued.

Police called the city's Navy "Duck" amphibian into service. Auxiliary and regular policemen brought the craft to the island, but while they approached from one side, the hunters, believed to be youths, fled from the other side.

The "Duck" made a tour of the island, smashing hunting blinds and leveling reeds in an effort to make sure the hunters would be unable to return

Snipers Fire Blanks from the roof of the S. A. Cook Armory as National Guardsmen from the Twin Cities and Appleton took part in extensive riot control exercises Sunday afternoon. The field training wrapped up some 32 hours devoted to controlling civil disorders by guardsmen in the past two months.

Playboy Died Sunday

Tommy Manville Had Neenah Ties

NEENAH — The oft-married Tommy Manville, who died in New York Sunday at the age of 73, was started on his nuptial travels with a "dowry" from his father, who according to local reports, was a Neenah native.

The millionaire Manvilles received their start in Neenah more than a century ago when Charles Brayton Manville moved to Wisconsin from New York in 1857.

The elder Manville dabbled in insulation for boiler and pipe covers in Sheboygan and in Neenah until 1882.

So did his son, Thomas Franklin Manville, was born in Neenah.

Tommy's father was vice president and general manager of Manville Covering Co. when he set up operations in Milwaukee in 1886.

There Tommy was born in 1894 and went on to gain distinction as the family playboy and husband of 11 wives.

The marrying Manville was his 11th bride, German-born Manville Covering Co. consolidated with the H. W. Johns Co. in New York to form one of the largest insulation companies in the country.

Tommy was first married when he was 17 and continued on a variety of honeymoons until 1960, when he married his 11th bride, German-born Christiana Erdlen, 26.

He reportedly paid out $1.25 million in alimonies during the past half-century.

While in Neenah his father operated a storage shed near the present site of E. F. Wickert Lumber Co. and sold his product in the Fox Valley until 1882 while on the road to becoming a millionaire many times over.

Guardsmen Quell Rioting In Training

Two-Month Program Ends With Sunday Fox Cities Session

NEENAH — MENASHA —

Some 240 National Guardsmen, with strong recollections of active duty in Milwaukee this past summer, brought a series of skirmishes with "rioters" under control at four locations in Appleton and the Twin Cities Sunday afternoon.

It was the final training session in riot control undertaken by Headquarters Company, 1st Bn., 127th Infantry, in conjunction with other guardsmen in Wisconsin.

For the past two months, guardsmen from throughout the state have received intensive training in dealing with civil disorders. The soldiers from the Twin Cities had logged 24 hours in riot drills prior to Sunday's eight-hour test.

The mock battles Sunday afternoon also had a current flavor. The theme was labor strife and in view of the steel truckers squabbles in the Midwest, it's conceivable the guardsmen could face such a situation.

All six platoons were called into action to restore order after violence had reportedly flared up in Neenah and Appleton. Capt. Hobart Crouch, company commander in Appleton, and Lt. James Kerrigan, in charge of the Twin City forces, directed the operations.

The guardsmen were in full riot uniform when they formed at the old Outagamie airport to await instructions.

Before the afternoon was over, they had broken up crowds at Einstein Junior High School in Appleton, had used tear gas on mobs at Center Swamp, located on County Trunk A north of Appleton, and had ferreted out snipers at the S. A. Cook Armory in Neenah.

The mock situation involved a major labor dispute and strike throughout the state, with the Fox Cities being the core of the civil unrest. Agitators had stirred the populace to near riot.

114 E. Wolf River Ave., New London. Age 56, passed away at his home of the National Guard to restore order.

Some looting and fire bombings have been observed and there had been unconfirmed reports of sniper fire. City police had been unable to handle the situation.

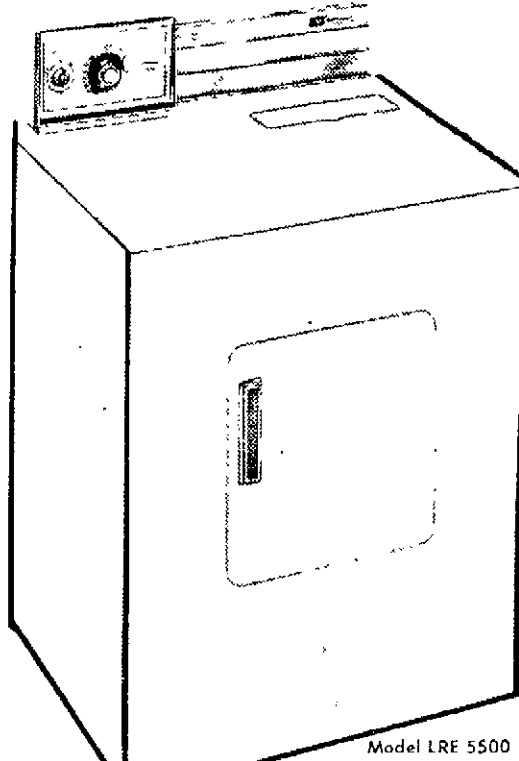

A platoon of 40 men converged on the Neenah armory where five snipers had been holed up. The snipers fired blanks from the rooftops and controlled the building until the guardsmen took their positions at the armory. Eventually, the snipers were captured after several guardsmen dropped through the roof into the building to quell the shooting.

One Thing Is Certain in the lives of about 60 three-year-olds attending the Bible school on Wednesday morning at Faith Lutheran Church: that's the time to learn Bible stories, songs and prayers. Richard Tesch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Tesch, Neenah, takes a collection from Lisa Spaulding, daughter of Mrs. Beverly Spaulding, Appleton. It's even more appealing to know that mother is upstairs, also attending one of the three Bible classes. (Post-Crescent Photo)

An Award Was Presented to the Appleton Board of Realtors Friday for having the largest registration at the Wisconsin Realtors Association convention in Green Bay. Making the presentation, left, is Bernard J. Young, convention registration chairman. Receiving the award is Theodore C. Moder, president of the Appleton Board of Realtors. During the meeting, Otto Bytof of Appleton was elected a vice president of the state association and Alvin L. Griese, a salesman with Kennedy Realtors, was elected a director.

Dairy Processors Told Products Need More Modern Sales Ideas

Experts Advise Butter, Milk Men To Follow Cheese Promotion Plans

BY PAT DUFFEY
Post-Crescent Farm Editor

Positive and progressive action by the U. S. dairy industry can convince the American consumer it has the products they want.

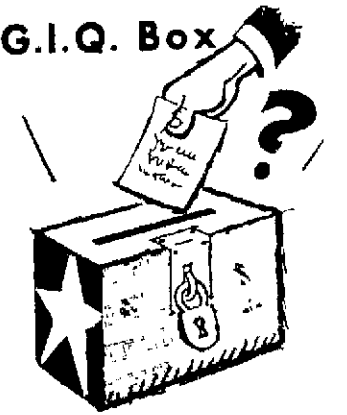

This was the consensus of an array of speakers paraded before the Northeastern Wisconsin Cheesemakers and Buttermakers Association during its 40th annual convention in Appleton last week.

With new awareness the industry might follow the example being set by the cheese product appeal to consumers, they said.

Many of the modern techniques in packaging, marketing, promotion and use of new specialty products used to lure the consumer dollar to cheese, could benefit the rest of the industry. When this occurs, they said, some of the long traditions may be overturned in favor of new concepts.

face a similar situation within the next five years because of the imitations coming on the market to compete with it. He cited figures showing a sharp increase in per capita consumption of low-fat skim milk in the 1950-60 decade while use of fluid whole milk dipped.

Roland Bailey, executive secretary of the Wisconsin Cheesemakers Association, suggested dairymen begin thinking in terms of a single grade of milk. "We are utilizing only 46 percent of Grade A milk now (for manufactured products such as cheese) which cuts the available blend price," he said.

Bailey suggested juggling the existing price structure all the way from the support level from the government to the base cheese price. "Better that it come from us within the industry than from some other source," he warned.

Appleton Could Face $7 Tax Rate Increase the new Area Vocational School District levy of $376,478 area vocational budget.

Schreve said: —It appeared the Appleton Board of Education budget request would have "a substantial impact" on the city's financial condition in the coming years, resulting in a $4.75 tax rate boost as it now stands.

—And the Vocational School budget, which amounted to 21 cents on the rate this year and has averaged about $100,000 a year, will add another $2.30 to the tax rate.

Teen Pleads Guilty to 2 Burglaries

Admits Encouraging Parole Violators; Sentence Pending

Circuit Court Judge Andrew W. Parnell this morning ordered a pre-sentence investigation for a 19-year-old Appleton youth who changed his pleas to guilty on two counts of burglary and one count of encouraging violation of parole.

Paul A. Gilbert, 820 W. Prospect Ave., had pleaded innocent and was to have stood trial during the fall term of Circuit Court. However, his attorney entered guilty pleas today, then asked for the pre-sentence study by the State Department of Health and Social Services.

George Hanlon, Outagamie County sheriff's investigator, told the court this morning that Gilbert and several other youths — most of whom have appeared in Juvenile Court — burglarized Konz Wood Products in the Town of Grand Chute and Struelo, Inc., in the Town of Greenville, on May 1 Hanlon said one of the other youths implicated Gilbert.

Two Parolees

The other charge was brought by Appleton police Sgt. David Young told the court today that Gilbert aided two parolees, 17 and 18 years old, to violate provisions of their parole by taking them in his car to South Dakota May 6 Young said that several burglaries were committed during the trip.

Young said the youths were apprehended in the western part of Wisconsin while they were returning.

Gilbert told the court this morning that the burglaries and the trip out of the state last May were "not my idea." He blamed his companions.

Gilbert is free under $3,000 bond Judge Parnell said a date for sentencing would be set following receipt of the pre-sentence study report.

creases would push the city's tax rate from $56.22 to $63.27 per $1,000 assessed valuation.

In other words, the owner of a house assessed at $10,000 would be in for a $63.27 increase in his property taxes, in addition to whatever increases the budgets of other departments, boards and agencies might call for.

"Public works, police, fire and city hall departmental budgets are running ahead of this year but not to any great degree," Schreve observed. He said the problem was paring the educational budgets if possible.

This year's $7 million increase in the city's assessed valuation would produce approximately $400,000 in additional tax revenue but this only amounts to $2.40 tax rate relief.

It was emphasized the schools' operational budget did not include the bonded debt interest and principal payments the city will have to make next year for new school construction.

Slow Trend

The Taxpayers Association pointing to the largest increase in assessed valuation since 1962, have called for "a special effort to avoid any increase in the tax rate for budgets now being developed."

Harry Kositzke, association president, said the valuation boost afforded an excellent opportunity to slow down the trend to increased tax rates, which with the single exception of 1963, have been uninterrupted since 1954.

He pointed out the local tax rate has gone up $20 during the period 1954-1963.

With reference to those who had property assessments increased this year, Kositzke said a double burden was being placed on them by any kind of a rate increase.

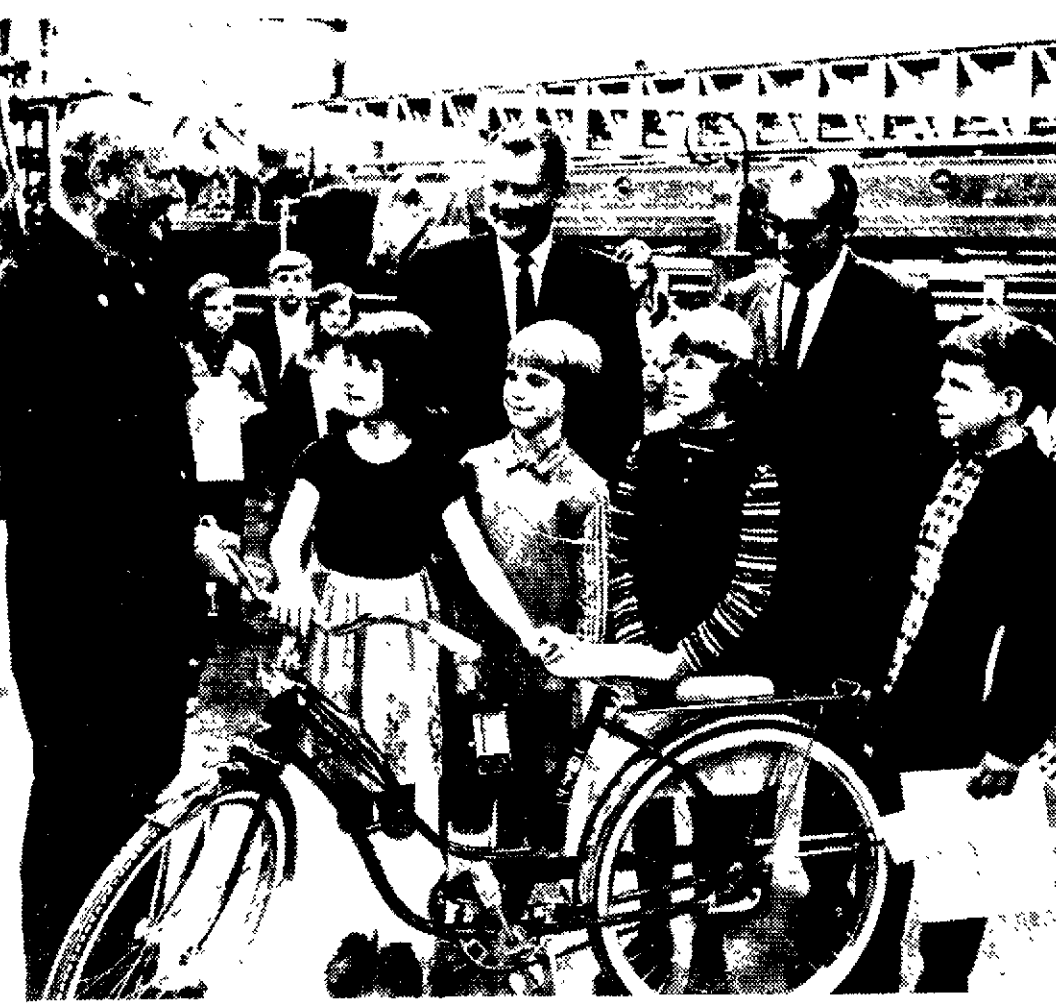

Neenah Man Is Injured in Car Crash Sunday

Karl A. Dix, 40, 749 Chestnut St., Neenah, was taken by Lindy's Ambulance to Theda Clark Hospital about 6 p.m. Sunday for treatment of arm and abdominal injuries he suffered in a two-car accident at U.S. 41 and Spencer Road, a mile west of Appleton.

Outagamie County police said that Dix was southbound on 41, in the right hand lane, when his car was sideswiped by another southbound auto driven by Charles L. Krahn, 21, 104 E. Frances St., Appleton.

Police said Krahn was in the left hand lane and struck the Dix auto in the right side as he was switching to the other lane. The Dix car went out of control and crashed into a utility pole, breaking it off.

Police estimated damage at $1,150 to the two vehicles. Charges are pending, police said.

predominately Negro near northside.

As soon as marchers began to cross the long 16th Street viaduct leading to the southside Polish district, large numbers of riot police arrived in patrol wagons which moved at the pace of the walkers at the near curb.

Unmarked Cars

A number of unmarked patrol cars crept along the route of the march with plain clothed officers whose duty it was to survey the marchers noting the number of whites and Negroes, and attempting to discern the percentage of marchers who were from out of town. The unmarked patrol cars could easily be mistaken for press cars except for the fact, as one veteran of the Milwaukee demonstrations pointed out, the license number of all of the city's unmarked police cars begins with the letter Z.

Newspaper and television pressmen joined city police in the streets. Reporters and photographers wore riot helmets ordered by police after an incident during one march when a photographer was injured in a scuffle as Father Groppi was arrested.

In attempts to confuse police, commandos leading the march make abrupt changes in direction. Often the long march is split into as many as three groups forcing police to split and shift their positions.

U-Turn by Marchers

In one instance when Saturday's march reached downtown Milwaukee's Wisconsin Avenue, groups of demonstrators on both sides of the street marched east along the sidewalk to Sixth Street and made an abrupt U-turn and walked west to Third Street leaving police patrol wagons caught in a maze of traffic and forcing them to make U-turns in the middle of the block.

The high fever pitch built in the mass rally preceding the march is kept throughout the three to four-hour trek. In a quiet moment songs and chants are struck up by march leaders or individual marchers. The enthusiasm present in the early moments of the march is remarkably much in evidence even after long miles of walking.

More marches are scheduled NAACP leaders say they will march until their demands for open housing are met. They actively deny press and police conjectures that the advent of cold weather will end the forays. One of the verses of the freedom song says, "Am't gonna let no cold weather turn me round."

Burglary of Appleton Business Nets $20

About $20 was taken from a cash drawer during a weekend burglary at R and R Dodge Inc., 1610 W. Wisconsin Ave.

Appleton detectives, who were notified of the burglary early this morning, said entry was gained by breaking a rear window. A large number of keys for used cars were found on the ground behind the building.

Racine Man Dies On Calumet Road

State Traffic Death Toll Hits 822 With 11 Fatalities Over Weekend

A Racine businessman accounted for the sixth Calumet County traffic fatality this year. Muscoda were killed early Sunday and was one of 11 fatalities in the state over a weekend which saw the state's 1967 highway death toll reach 822.

The toll a year ago on this date was 849. Calumet County had 7 traffic deaths one year ago.

John Zimmermann, 47, 1264 Flett Ave., Racine, died Sunday morning at Calumet Memorial Hospital in Chilton from injuries he received in a one-car mishap at 8:45 p.m. Saturday.

Zimmermann, an agent for the Sheet Metal International Association of Racine, was returning from a business trip to Marinette when he failed to negotiate a curve about one mile north of Forest Junction on State 57.

Zimmermann's 1964 auto rolled over several times and Zimmermann was thrown 100 feet from the car into a corn field. He was taken to the hospital by Weiting Ambulance, Brillion.

Elsewhere, two of the victims were killed in Milwaukee area accidents Sunday night.

Jay Klemstein, 17, of Milwaukee, was killed Sunday night when his automobile struck a utility pole on Milwaukee's Northwest Side.

Clayton Smith, 17, Menomonee Falls, was killed Sunday night when the car in which he was riding crashed after leaving a bridge in Germantown. Police said the auto skidded on steel plates framing the floor of the span.

Mrs. Ann Reichenauer, 62, of Eau Claire, was killed Sunday in a two-car accident on a Chippewa County highway near Chippewa Falls.

Edgar Breed, 58, of Rice Lake was killed Sunday in a two-car accident in Rice Lake.

TV Industry Considers Lengthening Programs

Success of Two-Hour Movies Concern to Producers; Result More 90-Minute Shows

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Two-hour feature films are galloping off with the television season's top ratings to date and a lot of people in the industry are thinking about adding more long programs.

Since the industry apparently regards the length of shows as significant rather than content, the viewer may soon find that on several evenings a week a network will have two long programs in prime time. CBS has already started it, with "Cimarron Strip" running for 90 minutes followed by a two-hour broadcast of a feature film.

But there are others who are not so sure that the popularity of feature movies is anything more than normal reaction to a definite programming gambit in use by all three major networks. They plan to wait awhile before proclaiming that half-hour comedies as well as one-hour action stories and westerns — traditionally TV staples — are, if not dead, declining in ratings.

"Wait until we've all run out of the strong shows in those movie packages we've bought," cautioned one executive. "We're all loading in our best stuff now. I think it would be a mistake to count any show dead, no matter what those early ratings show, until we see what happened when we are all forced to use the run of the mill movies."

Many Poor Ratings
Meanwhile, there are reports in the trade papers about the pending demise of a number of shows with poor early ratings.

Mentioned were NBC's "Maze" which so far has indicated that even a lovable elephant star is no match for Jackie Gleason, its heavyweight competition. CBS's "Dundee and the Culhane" got off to a dull start and disappointing reactions. ABC, with more new shows than the other two networks, also seems to have more trouble spots in its schedule.

Its biggest problem is "Good Company," trying to do battle with two ratings giants—NBC's "Dean Martin Show" and the CBS Thursday night movie. In Thursday nights' program it

Lee Bailey, the aggressive criminal lawyer who is a surprisingly diffident host in the series, was conducting a stilted, sober-sided interview with Sean Connery who in person is hardly the dashing character he portrays in James Bond films. It was no match for the power displayed on the other channels—Phil Silvers and Janet Leigh working with Martin; and a star-studded cast headed by Rex Harrison in "The Yellow Rolls Royce," a popular old movie.

With CBS's third Barbara Streisand show coming up next Wednesday and its 90-minute original drama, "Do Not Go Gentle Into That Good Night" following a week later, the three networks will begin to unwrap some of their special programs. From the fourth week of October through the shopping season ending on Christmas, they will be coming thick and fast.

Chicago River Bed Junk Dealers' Haven

CHICAGO (AP) — A scuba diving expedition Sunday underlined the truth that the Chicago River's depths should be more than the concern of junk collectors than treasure hunters.
The H20ers Scuba Diving Club from suburban Elmhurst spent 2½ hours beneath the Michigan Avenue Bridge looking for a box that fell from a boat last year.
Ralph Kohler, club president, said the treasure hunters were able only to turn up a baby carriage, a bed spring, several 55-gallon drums, a telephone switchboard and about "30 million" beer cans.

Two Crosbys Appear on Thomas Hour

BY TV SCOUT

8-9 (Channels 4-5)—Miss Mary Frances Crosby makes her acting debut with her father, Bing, on The Danny Thomas Hour, which is one of the season's most unusual productions. The story is of an aging superstar being photographed during his daily rounds for a pictorial essay. George Maharis plays the photographer who learns more about the singer than he knew himself. The entire production is interspersed with still pictures to give emphasis to the complex meanderings of the man's life and might have been better had the producers let the story stand on its own. Joan Collins is featured and little Miss Crosby proves an effective scene-stealer, even from her Dad. (C)

6:30-7:30 (Channels 11-6-9) — Anne Baxter should have chosen something beside Cowboy in Africa for one of her infrequent television appearances. The series has been notable for its extremes of bad dramatizations and good nature studies. And here it is again with Miss Baxter playing a lady landowner who refuses to allow tribesmen and animals dying of thirst to use her well. (C)

6:30-7:30 (Channels 2-7-12) — Gunsmoke's finale to its two-part starring John Ireland has to be one of the most active in the series' long history. (C)

7-8 — (Channels 4-5) — The Man From U.N.C.L.E. is another two-part finale, this one notable for the super-spymick and the fine guest star cast. (C)

7:30-8 (Channels 2-7-12) —

Burglar Takes Loot, Leaves His Own Behind

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Mrs. John Slagle told police that a burglar broke into her house and took four silver dollars, $1.50 in other denominations, a shirt and a .22-caliber pistol.
In exchange, she said, he left his dirty underwear, a black sweatshirt with orange lettering proclaiming "Colorado College Bengals '69," and a ring in the bathtub.

Cowboys Clip 'Skins on Late Pass, 21 to 17

Meredith Connects With Reeves in Last 18 Seconds

By TOM SEPPY WASHINGTON (AP) — Dallas running back Dan Reeves was worried: He was all alone, the goal line was so close and quarterback Don Meredith's pass just hung in the air. "I didn't think about dropping it," Reeves said after the Cowboys defeated the Washington Redskins 21-17. "I just didn't think it was coming down."

Meredith hit Reeves on a 36-yard touchdown play that began with only 18 seconds remaining. It was a Washington defensive mistake—set up by the Dallas offense—on which the Cowboys won despite the strong defensive effort by both teams through the first three quarters and up to the last few minutes.

"Reeves was Chris Hanburger's man all the way," said Washington Coach Otto Graham. "He was simply helping out another defender and stayed too long."

"He blew it and he knows it. No one feels worse about it than he does," Graham said. "The first back out is Hanburger's man and he didn't take him."

Called Play Reeves, who said he called the play, waited until Lance Rentzel made his move toward the center and then saw right linebacker Hanburger drop off into the middle to provide double coverage. At that moment, Reeves said, he began running his pattern—and out.

"We noticed that after Rentzel had begun to pick up yardage," he said.

Gibson Halts Red Sox for Second Time

Cardinals Take 3-1 Series Lead After Shutout; Santiago Chased

By MURRAY CHASS ST. LOUIS (AP) — St. Louis Cardinals manager Red Schoendienst said his team's 3-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox today was the best of the series.

They put themselves into position to extend their series to four straight today by coasting past Boston 6-0 Sunday behind Gibson's five-hit pitching.

The victory gave St. Louis a 3-1 lead in the series and Gibson a four-game winning streak dating back to 1964 when he was the Series' hero.

In an attempt to force the Series back to Boston, Manager Dick Williams of the Red Sox called on Jim Lonborg, who threw a one-hitter last Thursday to face St. Louis today.

Manager Red Schoendienst had a fresh left-hander, 22-year-old Steve Carlton, set to go. "Carlton is capable of pitching a shutout just like Gibson did," Schoendienst said.

If the Cardinals wrap up the Series today or back in Boston, they'll be the fourth straight time they have won the postseason affair.

The last time they failed in a Series was in 1943 when they lost to the New York Yankees four games to one.

Beat Browns They came back the next year to take their neighbors, the St. Louis Browns, 4-3; they edged the Red Sox 4-3 in 1946 and did the same to the Yankees in 1964.

In looking toward their fourth in a row, the Cardinals have hitting, pitching and precedence in their favor.

Only three teams in history have come back from a 3-1 deficit and won the whole thing—the 1903 Red Sox over Pittsburgh in a nine-game series, the 1925 Pirates against Washington and the 1958 New York Yankees over Milwaukee.

"We have our backs to the wall, but we're not giving up," Williams said after watching Gibson allow only one runner past first base and record his second victory of this Series.

The Red Sox didn't quit Sunday, but they were pitched into retirement by Gibson.

The 31-year-old right-hander was pitching on three days rest for the first time since last year's All-Star game, and he said he became tired in the last two innings.

But the Red Sox couldn't do anything against him. They got harmless singles in the first, fourth, sixth and eighth innings and then Carl Yastrzemski's meaningless double in the ninth.

"I was more comfortable in the first game; I was more tired in this one," said Gibson, who hurled a six-hit 2-1 victory in the opener last Wednesday.

"I really had to force myself in the eighth and ninth innings," he said.

Bays Erase 10-0 Deficit As Defense Shines and Bratkowski Hurls for 2 TDs

BY LEE REMMEL Post-Crescent News Service DETROIT — "I didn't feel anything... and I was hoping I wouldn't the way I was rambling with that pulled muscle."

Wearing a crooked smile, balding Ray Nitschke was reconstructing, with pardonable relish, the game-breaking interception he had engineered in the gloom of Tiger Stadium here Sunday afternoon to trigger the highly resilient Packers' past Detroit's ambitious Lions, 27-17.

and into a commanding 2-game Central Division lead over their victims.

"I made an abrupt turn on that play," the one-time Illinois fullback, who did not return to action after his heroic, confided.

Deflects Pass "Robbie (fellow linebacker Dave Robinson, who deflected a Milt Plum pass in Nitschke's direction early in the fourth quarter) made a real tremendous effort to tip the ball—we had more or less a blitz on and he got in there... it was just luck on my part to be there when the ball came down."

"Actually, I wanted to give the ball back to Robbie," the Pack's all-pro middle linebacker said, "but he didn't know I was hurt and he was getting ready to block for me."

Happily, Nitschke was able to motor 20 yards into the Detroit end zone unmolested, a salutary development which shot the world champions into a 20-10 lead with only 1:11 elapsed in the final period.

Coming on the heels of a 16-yard Don Chandler field goal, which had sent the Packers out front for the first time in the opening seconds of that last quarter, it visibly deflated the home forces, who shortly began to lose their poise as disgruntled Detroit fans chorused, "We want Sweet-tan, we want Sweet-tan."

Switch Plea The malcontents subsequently switched their plea to "we want Plum, we want Plum," after Tom Brown pilfered a Sweetan pass and returned it 49 yards to Detroit's 11, setting up the Pack's final touchdown—registered on a Zeke Bratkowski to Boyd Dowler collaboration.

Nitschke's effort was nothing less than poetic justice, it might be added, since the Lions had barged into an early 10-0 lead on a pair of similarly deflected interceptions, the first by defensive end Darris McCord that led to a 38-yard field goal by Wayne Walker in the first quarter and the second by his opposite number, Larry Hand, who rumbled four yards into the Green Bay end zone with a Zeke Bratkowski pass in the second period.

The blueprint for victory, ironically enough, was forged in the wake of that latter misadventure. The Brat, retaining his composure in the face of these trials, and his colleagues mounted a resounding revival to authoritatively re-establish their right to be called champions.

Bratkowski, who went the route at quarterback in the absence of injury-ridden Bart Starr, drove the Pack 80 yards to score in 12 plays and it was suddenly a new game.

The climactic maneuver was a 19-yard pass to Donny Anderson, who gathered it in on the 2-yard line and across the goal line untouched at 8:14 of the second quarter.

"Donny was a secondary receiver on the play," "the Brat" explained. "The play originally was supposed to go to one of our outside receivers. But it wasn't a broken play—Donny was where he was supposed to be."

From that point on, the Packers began to exercise more control over their fortunes. They muffled the Lions so well offensively that they were not able to score again until the final minute when Karl Sweetan tossed a 34-yard touchdown to split end Bill Malinchak, who leaped in concert with cornerback Bob Jeter and came down with the ball in the Green Bay zone.

Establish Pattern A major item in this last was the Packers' ability to run "inside" on the vaunted Detroit front four, a pattern they established early and maintained throughout the afternoon. With Jim Grabowski, Elijah Pitts, Ben Wilson and Anderson blasting through the interior, Messrs. McCord, Karras, rush and Hand were kept sufficiently honest to Turn to Page 9, Col. 2

Didn't Do Anything Different, Just Better Job, Lombardi Says After Win

Schmidt Also Credits Packers for Game 'Superior' to First Meeting

DETROIT — Darris McCord, son opening by with these same defensive end and Daddy Lion in now somewhat tamed Lions, Lombardi launched into a lecture (13th year) said it was his personal opinion that "this isn't invariability, the Green Bay of old."

"We didn't do anything different," he asserted. "When you are defeated but we haven't been defeated, you can't change. If you panic, you're really in trouble."

Continuing along the same line in answer to another question from his audience, the Pack leader said, "We looked at the pictures of our last game with them. We didn't do anything wrong defensively, we just weren't at the spots we were supposed to be at. It was the same thing on offense. We weren't blocking right."

And furthermore, in discussions of the Bays' penchant for coming back against the Lions (they were down 17-0 in the first game and 10-0 in the rematch), only this time for a highly satisfying triumph rather than a tie, the pigskin professor classified it as "all part of the game" and then alleged, "I don't know if we're ahead or behind. It doesn't make any difference. We'll continue to do what we're doing until we can't do it anymore. Then we'll change."

Schmidt, squeezing a coke can between his fingers, said today, "We won a game and lost a game," said Coach John McKay after Hull was injured in Southern Cal's 30-0 victory over Stanford Saturday night.

Dan Scott, 205, a junior, replaced Hull and will start against Notre Dame at South Bend Saturday. Steve Dale, a sophomore, will be the No. 2 fullback, McKay said.

USC Loses Hull, Starting Fullback

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Starting fullback Mike Hull, 6-4, 230-pound starting senior on the Southern California football team, suffered a knee injury and probably is through for the season.

Snitz Smashes Another Record

BERLIN (AP)—"I like the pool. It's fast. I don't know why."

Thus, Mark Spitz, a 17-year-old high-school senior from Santa Clara, Calif., explained his second world record in as many days Sunday after bettering the 200-meter butterfly standard with a time of 2:05.7.

Spitz' time was three-tenths of a second better than John Perris' previous mark set only last August. On Saturday, Spitz had beaten the 100-meter butterfly mark in 55.68.

Spitz led an American team that won nine of 10 events against a West German team Sunday after winning seven and tying another in nine events Saturday.

Desperate Drive Hall took a pass from Gary Cuozzo during the Saints' desperate drive upfield in the closing seconds, ran out of bounds and collided with Larson, who was standing on the sideline. Larson appeared to smash Hall with an elbow, infuriating the New Orleans players across the field.

Eagles' Early Burst Riddles Falcons, 38-7

Sneak Fires Offense; Defense Intercepts Four Atlanta Passes

By RON SPEER
ATLANTA (AP) — Philadelphia's explosive Eagles demoralized Atlanta with a 24-point outburst in the first quarter Sunday and coasted to a 38-7 National Football League victory over the winless Falcons.

Quarterback Norm Snead tossed a 67-yard touchdown pass to Gary Ballman, threw a two-yard scoring strike to Mike Ditka and set up another touchdown with a 59-yard pitch to Jim Kelly to lead the Eagles to their third victory against one loss.

Philadelphia picked off four Atlanta passes—with end Don Hultz returning one 16 yards for a touchdown—and recovered two Falcon fumbles.

No Stopping
Ballman opened the mismatch by scoring on a 17-yard end-around play and Hultz scored on his interception of quarterback Steve Sloan's pass two plays later. Sam Baker kicked a 34-yard field goal and Snead tossed two yards to Ditka to end the first period explosion.

After a scoreless second quarter, Snead hit Ballman with a 67-yard scoring pass on the first play of the second half, and Tom Woodeshick plunged over from the two for the Eagles' final touchdown set up by Snead's 59-yard pass to end Jim Kelly.

Snead connected on nine of 18 passes for 192 yards. The Falcons were unable to move behind Sloan or regular quarterback Randy Johnson but averted a shutout with minutes left when Jerry Simmons made a diving catch of a 10-yard pass by third-team quarterback Terry Nofsinger.

Chiefs, Oilers In Player Deal

KC Acquires Ladd, Lee, Draft Pick For Pete Beathard

KANSAS CITY (AP) — When you're only No. 2 you have to try harder, according to the Kansas City Chiefs. The Miami Dolphins just wish it weren't so hard on them.

The Chiefs, defending American Football League champions but only in second place in the AFL's Western Division right now, held the Dolphins scoreless for the second time this season Sunday in winning 41-0.

But the big news came after the game when the Chiefs announced they had traded reserve quarterback Pete Beathard to the Houston Oilers for defensive tackle Ernie Ladd, quarterback Jack Lee and the Oilers' first draft choice in 1968.

Chiefs' Coach Hank Stram said the trade was made to "make the Chiefs a stronger football team now, so that we can continue to win now."

Two Giants
What it means to the opposition is that 285-pound Buck Buchanan will be joined on the defensive line by the 290-pound Ladd. Buchanan is 6-foot-7, Ladd 6-9.

It's a reunion of sorts for the football behemoths. Both played on the same Grambling, La., college team. Ladd was two years ahead of Buchanan in school.

Lee, who will be used as a backup signal caller to starter Len Dawson, is an eight-year AFL veteran. He originally signed with Houston in 1960 but was loaned to Denver for the 1964-65 seasons. So far this season he was completed 36 of 72 passes for 309 yards and two touchdowns.

Beathard is in his fourth year with the Chiefs. The former Southern California great was the Chiefs' top draft choice in 1963. He was also drafted by the Detroit Lions of the NFL before the two leagues started merger proceedings.

Packers Rally to Tip Lions, Boost Lead

make the Bays' outside and passing games successful.

Taking note of these developments, Bratkowski reported, "we didn't change anything in the second half — we followed our plan all the way."

The line (Bob Skoronski, Gale Gillingham, Ken Bowman, Jerry Kramer and Forrest Gregg) just did a fantastic job of blocking," Zeke declared. "You've got to give them a tremendous lot of credit. . . we ran a lot of running plays (45 of a total 66) and they blocked extremely well — we got a lot of yardage."

The front wall's artistry is reflected in the statistics, which reveal the Packers rushed for 131 yards, a robust production these days and a vast improvement on their first encounter with the Lions, when they settled for 43 in struggling to a 17-17 tie with Joe Schmidt's operatives.

Green Bay's accomplished defense also emerged with some impressive figures. Led by the rampaging Willie Davis and Henry Jordan, with substantial assists from Jim Weatherwax, LeeRoy Caffey, Robinson and Nitschke, the Packer defenders limited the Lions to 59 yards on the ground — a meager output for a team which had gone into action as the National Football League's leader — and 97 yards passing.

The Packers, who had been victimized by 15 turnovers in their first three games, appeared destined for better things when Anderson's punt following the game's first offensive series struck an unidentified Lion and was recovered by Doug Hart on the Detroit 48.

But it was not to be. After one first down and a 19-yard Bratkowski-to-Dale pass, offset somewhat by a 15-yard holding penalty, had carried the Packers to Detroit's 23, Hand deflected a Bratkowski screen pass and McCord speared the "free" ball, returning it to the 50 before being run down.

Kicks Field Goal
One first down and six plays later, Walker came on to drill home a 38-yard field goal at 9:45 and the situation began to smack of that first meeting in Green Bay when the Lions intercepted four passes and stormed to a 17-0 halftime lead.

It began to look even more familiar when, on the third play of the second quarter, another Bratkowski pitch was batted into the air, this time by McCord. Hand ran under it on the 4 and charged into the end zone.

Showing their championship class, the Packers went to work with a will after Walker's kickoff soared over the goal posts and beyond the end line. Carrying the attack to the Lions with a vengeance, they wheeled to three successive first downs in as many plays.

Bratkowski first hurled a 16-yard strike to Dale along the eastern sidelines, sent Grabo off left tackle for 10 more and then fired an 11-yarder to Mary Fleming, felled in his tracks on the Detroit 43.

Andy circled left end for 4 and Grabo lost 1 on a draw, then blasted up the middle for 12 and another first down. Grabo next dipped outside left end for 6, then gave away to a fresher Wilson, who crashed over right guard for 6 more to the 16.

Andy added 10 more at right end, but the Packers were detected holding and forced to retreat to the 25. To complicate matters, Karras burst through to drop Wilson for a 4-yard loss on the next play.

But the imperturbable Bratkowski found Boyd Dowler up the middle for 10 yards and then, while being tackled from behind, rifled a strike to Andy on the 2 to end the drought.

After Chandler's conversion, the Lions led by only 10-7 and that is the way it stood at the intermission — and until shortly after the rains came early in the third quarter.

Chandler Summoned
Masterful mudders, the Packers slogged to three successive first downs the first time they gained possession. Then, when Pitts was forced to settle for a yard by Karras in a third-and-2 situation, Chandler was summoned and toed a low line drive through the heart of the goalposts at 6:56 to forge a 10-10 tie.

"I was standing on the grass and Bart had to hold the ball on the dirt part of the infield," Don explained. "So I had to step over what amounted to a little hump to kick the ball."

Conceding it was not a typical, picture-type Chandler boot, Don smiled and asserted, "I don't care what it looked like — it was straight. You can have the pretty ones, I've had too many of those miss."

The Pack's "Toe" was back at it shortly. The Lions' Tom Watkins cut in front of fellow receiver Tom Vaughn to field an Anderson punt and fumbled. Packer rookie John Rowser scooped up the bouncing ball, giving the Packers excellent position on the Detroit 28.

"The ball just hit Tommy Vaughn (the official scorer said it was Watkins) in the chest," Rowser informed, "and it bounced right over in my direction. . . I just picked it up and ran with it, until they blew the whistle twice and informed me I couldn't run with a muff."

"I got cut down at the line of scrimmage on the play," he rasadded, "and I got up and went down field. If I hadn't been cut down, the ball might have been past me, too."

A Bratkowski-to-Dowler pass produced one first down at the 15, but the Lions rose up on the next series and Chandler returned to boot a more artistic 16-yard bullseye to mount a permanent, 13-10 Packer lead with only two seconds gone in the fourth quarter.

Intercepts Pass
Nitschke staged his spectacular three plays following the kickoff and the Packers subsequently surged into a 27-10 lead, after Tom Brown waylaid a Sweetan pass and cantered down the western sidelines to the Lion 11 before being shouldered out of bounds by Watkins.

Three plays later, Bratkowski hurled up the middle to Dowler for the TD as Boyd counted his first TD in two years in league play.

Sweetan's scoring pitch to Malinchak in the final minute was only a temporary disappointment and, when the final gun erupted, Bratkowski charged from the huddle to claim the game ball with all the verve of an ebullient rookie.

"I just wanted to make sure," the Brat soberly informed, "that we got it."

SALESMEN AND SALESWOMEN "JUST READ THIS"
A FULL DISCLOSURE AD I have spent 3 unsuccessful interviews with men for the position of educational sales counselors, with future management opportunities. I am not looking for a job, I am looking for a career. I am a woman who has the ability to work in the field (direct to the home sales) with the soft disposition to follow successful sales procedures. We supply expensive sales leads to our salesmen, to follow up in person, NOT OVER THE PHONE. I am a clean, industrious, dependable, hard working family man, over 30 years of age. I am a WORKING WIFE, and not a 9 to 5er.
This is a real once in a life-time opportunity. An excellent income ($15,000 plus) based on commissions & bonuses (spelled out in writing) fringe benefits supplied.
I want men who have the ability to work in the field (direct to the home sales) with the soft disposition to follow successful sales procedures. We supply expensive sales leads to our salesmen, to follow up in person, NOT OVER THE PHONE. I am a clean, industrious, dependable, hard working family man, over 30 years of age. I am a WORKING WIFE, and not a 9 to 5er.
We counsel, we administer an interview, we prospect, we follow up, we close. We are not a 9 to 5er.
Check us out before you write to see if you qualify for a personal confidential interview. Please do not bother me unless you believe in the above and fit it. Write Mr. Bach, ECPI, 174 W. Wisconsin Ave. Milwaukee, Wis.

Borderline Case May Not Need Medication

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: My husband has just been discovered, after a blood sugar test, to be a borderline diabetic, but takes no medication and has not been put on a diet. He still has a great thirst and appetite, and is about

Dr. Molner
30 pounds overweight. Must he get worse before he is given medication? He is 63. — Mrs. M.C.L.

I smell a rat somewhere. It is quite conceivable that a borderline diabetic may not need medication — but when he is overweight, he certainly should be on a diet. Medication depends on the blood sugar level and the presence of sugar in the urine. It is a curious, dangerous, but known fact that some diabetics refuse to admit that they have the disease, or think that for some reason they are different from other diabetics and can keep on overeating with impunity. They can't. I'd check back with the doctor, and see whether he hasn't given some instructions on diet.

Meantime read up on the disease. My booklet, "Diabetes, the Sneaky Disease," is available in return for 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Send your request to Dr. Molner, in care of The Post-Crescent.

Dear Dr. Molner: Two months ago the doctor told me my 8-year-old daughter has epilepsy. Please tell me all you can about it.

She is taking medication (Dilantin) three times a day. What would happen if she missed a tablet?

Could the medicine itself slow her down physically and mentally? What effect does epilepsy have on her ability in school work? She is repeating the second grade and doing poor work. — Mrs. G.S.

I suggest that you join the Epilepsy Association which can provide you with reading material on epilepsy and its treatment, and keep you up to date on new developments. That's one of the purposes of the association — to furnish useful information to people like you. (It also encourages and supports research work.)

The drug in your case is an anti-convulsant, that is, a drug to prevent seizures. Possibly nothing would happen if she missed taking a tablet, but possibly she might have a seizure. Safest thing is to get your daughter in a firm habit of taking it as prescribed.

It may help her schoolwork just by relieving her of the tension of fearing seizures; it won't slow her up. Other than that, the medicine won't affect her mentally or physically.

Most types of epilepsy have no bearing on mental ability. Some of the world's most famous people have had epilepsy.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 67 and had a blood clot in my leg 25 years ago after an operation. I had no more trouble until last summer when I got a clot in the same leg. After wearing a support garment my leg is better. Do you think I should keep on wearing it? It is uncomfortable and quite expensive. — Mrs. M.R.

Uncomfortable or not, it is more comfortable than risking further attacks from clots. Blood clots can be dangerous.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 70 and have been advised by my doctors to have the prostate gland removed. One surgeon wants it done by freezing, the other by regular surgery. I would appreciate your opinion and explanation of both procedures. — P.M.

Cryosurgery — surgery by extreme coldness — is a relatively new technique but already has proved to be effective. It takes special equipment, and not all surgeons are familiar with its use. Instead of removing tissue with the scalpel, the unwanted tissue is destroyed by freezing it with a fine jet of liquid nitrogen. I am under the impression that its use will increase, but the important thing for you is to have the surgery done one way or the other.

To learn the major categories of prostate trouble — symptoms, treatment; how to speed recovery — write to Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper for his booklet, "The Pesky Prostate," enclosing 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to cover cost of printing and handling. Planner Tells Shiocton Lions of Zoning Effects

SHIOCTON — Eugene Franchett, executive director of the Fox Valley Council of Governments, explained to Lions here the effect zone planning can have on community progress.

Speaking at the club's bi-monthly meeting, Franchett presented some urban zoning plans in the Fox Valley area.

Lions also approved their annual light bulb sale Oct. 23. A packet of eight bulbs will be sold for $2 and all profits go to charity.

During its first year, the club provided six Christmas grocery baskets to needy families, sent cash donations to the Lion's Blind camp at Rosholt and were part of the Lion's Care Friendship Project of Lion's International. The club donated $100 to the Lake Park Association and recently purchased a pair of glasses for a needy child in the Shiocton area.

8th Person Dies In Texas Crash

GIDDINGS, Tex. (AP) — An eighth motorist died Sunday from injuries received in a highway crash in which one of the two cars was torn in half.

The collision occurred Saturday night during a rain storm near Lincoln, a south central Texas village nine miles north of Giddings in Lee County.

State Patrolman James R. Peters said a car driven by Alvin A. Pampell Jr., 19, of Houston, skidded sideways into the path of an automobile operated by Julian S. Perez Jr., 24, of Lockhart, and the Pampell vehicle was ripped in two. Both men were among those killed.

Sherwood to Get Natural Gas Line

SHERWOOD — Natural gas line installations are being made here by Wisconsin Gas Company, Kaukauna.

Work was begun last week on the town road near Harrison School by Gabe Construction Company, Sheboygan.

At a public hearing in Madison in August the firm was granted permission to extend its lines into the Sherwood and High Cliff areas in preference to Wisconsin Public Service Company, Chilton. The Kaukauna firm had been servicing the Darboy area in the Town of Harrison since 1963 and recently extended lines to the intersection of State 114 and 55 just west of the village.

The firm has given no date when residents may expect gas service.

Two State Congressmen Endorse Halt in Bombing

WASHINGTON — Two Wisconsin House members have joined with 15 other colleagues in endorsing a letter to President Johnson asking for the termination of the bombing of North Vietnam.

Reps. Robert W. Kastenmeier, Watertown, and Henry S. Reuss, Milwaukee, both Democrats, have signed a letter addressed to the chief executive which charges that "The policy of bombing in the North has been tried and has failed to accomplish its objectives of stopping the infiltration of men and supplies to the South and of bringing the Hanoi government to the negotiating table."

"We hold, therefore, that the time has come for the United States to terminate the bombing of North Vietnam," the letter continued. "The United States' position in the world is strong enough to do so. Such a course, in our view and that of prominent statesmen throughout the world, best promises to open the way for a reasonable and peaceful settlement of this tragic conflict."

They claimed that the bombing of targets close to the Chinese border and of Cam Pha and Haiphong "conflicts with an analysis presented by Secretary of Defense McNamara on August 25, 1967."

At that time, the congressmen recalled that McNamara said "our resort to a less selective campaign of air attack against the North would involve risks which at the present I regard as too high to accept for this dubious prospect of successful results."

"Obviously the risks to which prices unchanged to 1 higher. Secretary McNamara referred are catastrophic involvement rocket fryers 19-20 with Communist China and the Soviet Union, including the possibility of nuclear war," the letter stated.

Date Set for Start of Yule Shopping Season

The Christmas shopping season, which seems to be nudging Thanksgiving off the calendar, begins Nov. 23 in Appleton.

It will be inaugurated with a special ceremony at Division Street and College Avenue with new yule decorations and lighting effects making their debut.

The annual decorative scheme for the College Avenue shopping district is sponsored by the Appleton Downtown Retail Division.

This year's downtown Christmas decoration layout will take on more of a religious theme than in the past.

We won't solve your recruiting problems...

But if your company is like most we know of, it's constantly facing the problem of attracting and keeping qualified personnel. Wisconsin's unemployment levels are down to all-time lows.

Have you considered Blue Cross•Blue Shield protection? It's very high among the increasingly important "fringe benefits" an employer can offer in today's tight labor market.

And with Blue Cross and Blue Shield, you can practically forget about employee health care protection problems. You leave all the claims work, paperwork, check writing and correspondence to us. We pay hospitals and doctors directly. You're never "in the middle."

From a strictly monetary viewpoint, who can match our record of return for your dollars? Year after year, it is significantly more than anyone else in the field: on the average, 93¢ out of every dollar paid in goes for member benefits or reserves for future benefits.

Think about it. Should you have anything less?

30 Arrested After Melee

Milwaukee's Police Clash
With Housing Demonstrators

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Police clashed twice with open housing demonstrators in Milwaukee's virtually all-Negro Inner Core Sunday night. Thirty persons were injured, including a policeman hit by a rock.

Police arrested 20 marchers. Among them was Negro comedian Dick Gregory, a leader of the protests now in their 43rd day.

The violence was the first to flare in this racially troubled city since mid-September despite nightly marches, and counter-marches by opponents of open housing.

A shotgun blast shattered the windows of a police car in the neighborhood of the disturbances. The officers in the car escaped injury. No arrests followed the incident which occurred in the neighborhood of the disturbances.

Most of those arrested, including Gregory, were seized after about 410 marchers moved from the sidewalk into the center of the street in opposition to police orders.

'Leading You Astray'
"Ladies and gentlemen, you are in violation of the law," Lt. Carl E. Hanneman told the marchers. "Each and every demonstrator should use his own mind and not follow leaders who are leading you astray."

Gregory, who was at the head of the line along with The Rev. James E. Groppi, a white Roman Catholic priest, was pushed back onto the sidewalk. After four attempts to keep Gregory there, police arrested him.

The other demonstrators remained in the street. Hanneman warned them three more times to move. Police finally formed a wedge and drove into the line with nightsticks flying.

One Negro youth fell to the ground. "I'm getting up, I'm getting up," he yelled as police flayed at him with their clubs.

Earlier, police moved in on the demonstrators when they attempted to approach a band of white opponents of open housing also marching in the Inner Core where most of Milwaukee's 86,000 Negroes live.

On Same Street
Three open housing marchers were arrested in that clash.

The rival groups had been parading on opposite sides of the same street.

A Roman Catholic priest, the Rev. Russell Witon, a hospital chaplain, was among those in the white march. At a rally on the virtually all-white South Side after the march, Father Witon told about 90 demonstrators: "We're not going to stand by and let any savages move into our neighborhoods even if it takes a force. Until we have organization, you will be under the black claw of rabble-rousing no-gooders."

It was rejected today in a brief order that gave no explanation. The court noted that Justice Thurgood Marshall took no part in the case.

Beer Party Ends Up as Gun Battle

4 Motorcyclists
Are Wounded at Ypsilanti, Mich.

YPSILANTI, Mich. (AP) — Four motorcyclists, including a woman, were shot and wounded Sunday night in a gun battle which climaxed an all-day beer party of several motorcycle clubs.

Washtenaw County Sheriff Douglas Harvey said 25 persons were arrested at the scene of the shootout, an abandoned farm about four miles north of Ypsilanti. Eight women and two juveniles were among those arrested. Their ages ranged from 16 to 35 years, he said.

Charges of felonious assault were expected to be filed against several of them, police said.

Sheriff's deputies, Michigan State Police and Ypsilanti police converged on the scene after three men rushed up to two city patrolmen at a drive-in restaurant and shouted, "they're shooting. Three are shot already. We need some help."

Return Fire
When officers arrived at the scene, shots rang out from the farm house. Police returned the fire, then threw a spotlight beam on the house and ordered the people out.

"We'll come out if we're sure you're police," a voice came from inside. "Show us the gum ball (scout car roof-light)."

A red light was flashed, and the motorcyclists came out.

The wounded were found in a

Court to Rule on Draft Card Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court announced today that it would decide whether the 1965 federal law that forbids the burning of draft cards is constitutional.

At the same time the court will decide if a draft card burner can be sent to prison for not possessing his card.

The Justice Department had asked the court to hear the case after the U.S. Circuit Court in Boston ruled unanimously that the 1965 law abridges free speech and is therefore unconstitutional.

Navy Bombers Strike MIG Airfield in North

U. S. Says 3 Warplanes Are Downed

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Navy fighter-bombers struck a North Vietnamese MIG airfield near Haiphong Sunday, the sixth installation hit in five straight days of raids on targets ordered by the Pentagon as out of bounds for U.S. warplanes. The strike that dug wide craters into the French-built jet strip at Cat Bi left untouched only two bases in the North capable of launching MIG interceptors.

In the ground war, an American platoon fought out of a surrounded position in rainswept jungles and Communist mortar-men poured fire on the major Army-Navy base in the Mekong Delta.

Nearby in the delta, a 50-year-old Buddhist nun burned herself to death, a Saigon newspaper said, the second suicide by fire in a week during the drive by militant Buddhists to force the government to abandon a charter recognizing a moderate faction in the church.

The Cat Bi strike damaged a Soviet built liaison plane, but the U.S. Command said the carrier-based jets found no MIGs on the ground as they flew in "virtually unopposed."

Pilots Unopposed
The raid was part of a maximum U.S. effort to cripple the North before the monsoon rains starts this month and cut flying time by as much as 75 per cent. Since Wednesday, U.S. planes have also hit three bridges on supply routes from Red China and two fuel dumps, all previously barred as too sensitive to attack.

The two major MIG bases still on the forbidden list are the Gia Lam installation and the big Phuc Yen base, which houses the North Vietnamese air force's major operations center and serves as headquarters for the air defense command. Both are near Hanoi.

Planes Downed
The Communist Chinese New China News Agency claimed that 10 U.S. planes were shot down over North Vietnam Saturday. The U.S. Command said three planes were downed and four airmen missing.

In the jungle battle, the U. S. forces reported 17 dead and four wounded.

Twenty-five sailors and three soldiers were wounded when the Red mortars ripped into the Mekong base at Dong Tam, crowded with river assault boats returned from a combat sweep.

The heaviest fighting reported took place Sunday when a company of paratroopers from the 101st Airborne Division ran into about 150 North Vietnamese regulars in the coastal foothills of Quang Tin Province about 300 miles north of Saigon.

Close Combat
With rain pouring down, there was no hope of air support. Even the artillery had to be called off when the paratroops

Short of Complete Break

Indonesia Announces Intent To Suspend Ties With Peking

JAKARTA (AP) — Indonesia announced today its intention to suspend diplomatic relations with Communist China.

A Foreign Ministry statement said Indonesia has demanded that the Chinese government immediately allow the entire Indonesian staff in Peking to leave the country.

When this is completed, the statement said, Indonesia will allow the Chinese staff in Jakarta to leave.

The announcement stopped here short of a formal break. Heavy pressure is on Foreign Minister Adam Malik to break the ties with China, but he is reported opposed to it.

The strongly worded demand by Indonesia declared that China had ignored the "normal traditions among civilized nations." It rejected previous Chinese protests on grounds that the treatment of the Indonesian staff in Peking was worse than what has happened Mobs of Indonesians and Chinese have sacked each other's embassies. In the most recent attack on the Chinese Embassy, 20 Chinese officials were badly beaten and two were shot.

The Foreign Ministry statement said China would be permitted to land a plane to pick up its staff once the Indonesians in Peking had safely arrived in either Hong Kong or Dacca, East Pakistan.

Earlier, Indonesia tried to move its embassy staff in Peking to Hong Kong, but China refused exit permits.

Under deposed President Sukarno, Indonesia was a friend of Red China. But that changed after the military put down a coup attempt led by the Indonesian Communist party in October, 1965. Peking was accused of having a hand in the coup and later was linked with pamphlets urging Indonesian Chinese to resist the government of acting President Suharto.

Mobs of Indonesian youths have attacked the Chinese Embassy in Jakarta on four occasions over the past year and a half.

Expelled Diplomats

The government expelled two Chinese diplomats in April, charging them with subversive actions, and two in August, for allegedly shooting at the Indonesian youths who stormed the embassy.

The Foreign Ministry said Indonesians in Peking have nothing but the clothes they were wearing when the embassy was attacked Aug. 5.

Eight Indonesians are still in Peking, five of them with diplomatic status. China has 20 persons in its embassy here, four with diplomatic status.

The Chinese here are barred from leaving the embassy and armed troops are on constant guard around the battered grounds.

Former Prime Minister Clement Attlee, 84, Dies

Messages of Tribute Pour in for Britain's
Post-War Leader, Father of Welfare State

LONDON (AP) — The ashes of Clement Attlee, father of the British welfare state, will be placed in Westminster Abbey, burial place of the nation's sovereigns and statesmen.

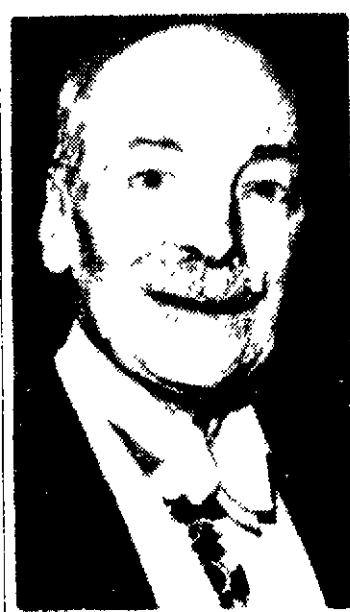

Attlee, prime minister from 1945 to 1951, died Sunday in a London hospital after a long illness. He was 84.

No date has been scheduled for the cremation but Nov. 3 has been tentatively set for the Westminster Abbey service.

Tributes continued to pour in from all over the world today. India's President Zakir Hussain sent a message of condolence to Queen Elizabeth II praising the man under whose administration India received her independence.

The Queen said Attlee "made an enduring place for himself in the history of our country and the Commonwealth. In war and peace he served his sovereigns well."

Convention Set for Chicago

Democrats May Have Loyalty Pledge

WASHINGTON (AP) — West-Chicago for the convention site, and then refuse to support John F. Kennedy if he is renominated as president.

Illinois national committee man Jacob M. Arvey said he does not have much worry about civil rights demonstrations at the convention, to be held at the international amphitheatre near the Chicago stockyards in the week of Aug. 25, 1968.

"I'm much more worried about these anti-war demonstrators, but I am sure that Chicago authorities can cope with them," Arvey said.

Committee Proposal
The party's national committee scheduled speedy acceptance of a site committee's proposal to meet in a state with a Democratic governor and a city with a Democratic mayor—but in an area where the Republicans are in resurgence.

National Chairman John M. Bailey predicted Johnson would be renominated unanimously at the four-day extravaganza opening Aug. 25.

In a light talk today, Bailey summoned the Democrats to back Johnson's Vietnam efforts "to prevent World War III."

The national chairman said while Johnson takes "the only position that makes sense" in Vietnam, most Republicans "are busy trying to win the 1968 election" by criticizing his actions.

In a thinly veiled reference to Democratic dissenters, Bailey told the Democrats: "Let's defend the President of the United States against those of his critics who are utterly unreasonable."

Pilot Program on Pollution On Lakes Backed by Steiger

WASHINGTON — A proposed pilot program to experiment with ways of combatting lake pollution has been described as a significant step toward finding solutions, by Rep. William A. Steiger, R-Oshkosh.

Steiger made the judgement regarding Interior Department endorsement of a bill that would provide $5 million to set up pilot projects in combatting lakeshore and riverbank pollution of types for which technology has not found solutions.

"Cleaning up the lakes in our nation must be given a high priority Lake Winnebago, in the Sixth (congressional) District, and similar lakes in Wisconsin are examples of inland lakes that need help.

"We don't at present possess the kind of technological knowledge necessary to solve their problems. The pilot program called for in this legislation is what I think is necessary to begin to work toward a solution."

Steiger submitted a bill proposing the pilot program, revising a previous bill after receiving comments from the Interior Department. The department was asked to comment on the bill by the House Committee on Public Works.

The department stressed that the bill would only set up an experimental pilot program, rather than beginning a full-scale anti-pollution project.

Although department officials believe existing legislation gives them the authority to set up such pilot projects under contract with municipalities, institutions, states and individuals, the department said it would welcome passage of the proposed bill to make the authority clear.

Steiger introduced the revised version of his bill Wednesday, eliminating from the original proposal standards as conditions for receiving grants.

Such provisions, due to the present lack of technological knowhow, would "only inhibit a research program," the department pointed out.

Study Planned Nov. 9

Survey Authorized on Area Alcoholism Needs

A community survey to determine specific needs in the city and county to help sick alcoholics was authorized by the board of directors of Community Alcoholism Services at a meeting Thursday night at Outagamie County Hospital.

The full citizens committee in June had unanimously agreed there was need for a downtown Appleton alcoholic information and referral center "without delay, and for beds at the county hospital."

Some beds are now being used at the hospital on a voluntary commitment basis.

The group felt that before it could go to the community for financial help for a referral center, it should be sure such a facility would be used by industry, business, hospitals, the medical profession, schools and other health and welfare agencies. Board members also felt that a questionnaire would help establish some of the areas on which an education and referral center would place its primary emphasis, based on the needs of these other agencies.

Alice Huck was named chairman of a survey committee, which is to mail out questionnaires by Oct. 23. The full citizens group will meet Nov. 9 to study the answers, and to make plans for raising funds for the prospective center.

Racine Man Dies On Calumet Road

State Traffic Death Toll Hits 822 With 11 Fatalities Over Weekend

A Racine businessman accounted for the sixth Calumet County traffic fatality this year and was one of 11 fatalities in the state over a weekend which saw the state's 1967 highway death toll reach 822.

The toll a year ago on this date was 849. Calumet County had 7 traffic deaths one year ago.

John Zimmermann, 47, 1264 Flett Ave., Racine, died Sunday morning at Calumet Memorial Hospital in Chilton from injuries he received in a one-car mishap at 8:45 p.m. Saturday.

Zimmermann, an agent for the Sheet Metal International Association of Racine, was returning from a business trip to Marinette when he failed to negotiate a curve about one mile north of Forest Junction on State 57.

Zimmermann's 1964 auto rolled over several times and Zimmermann was thrown 100 feet from the car into a cornfield. He was taken to the hospital by Weiting Ambulance, Brillion.

Elsewhere, two of the victims were killed in Milwaukee area accidents Sunday night.

Jay Klemstein, 17, of Milwaukee, was killed Sunday night when his automobile struck a utility pole on Milwaukee's Northwest Side.

Clayton Smith, 17, Menomonee Falls, was killed Sunday night when the car in which he was riding crashed after leaving a bridge in Germantown. Police said the auto skidded on steel plates framing the floor of the span.

Mrs. Ann Reitenauer, 62, of Eau Claire, was killed Sunday in a two-car accident on a Chipewa County highway near Chipewa Falls.

Edgar Breed, 58, of Rice Lake, was killed Sunday in a two-car accident in Rice Lake.

Vivian Chitwood of rural Blue River and Mrs. Archie Hardy of Muscoda were killed early Sunday in a two-car collision on the State 80 bridge over the Wisconsin River near Muscoda.

Sharon Mook, 19, of Sun Prairie died early Sunday in a three-car accident on U.S. 18-151 about 10 miles east of Madison.

Robert Nelson, 49, of Homewood, Ill., died Saturday in a two-car accident five miles south of Oshkosh on U.S. 41.

William Fritz, 72, of Tigerton was killed late Friday in a two-car accident on a Shawano County road.

Warren Hanke, 24, of Des Plaines, Ill., was killed late Friday when his car hit a tree in the Dane County community of Oregon.

Edwin Bartz, 49, of Endeavor, injured in a Waushara County accident Friday morning, died Saturday night. His death was not included in the weekend Street Merchants conducted count.

Albert L. Soucheck, 69, of Sheboygan, died Saturday night in a Sheboygan hospital of injuries suffered in a three-car accident in Kiel Sept. 29.

Forfeits Traffic Bond

NEW LONDON — Robert L. Malueg, 29, route 1, Clintonville, driver of a car involved in a minor accident last week, forfeited $43 in Municipal Justice Court when he failed to appear on a city police charge of failing to have his vehicle under control.

Arrested for 'Topless' Dance

'Accidental' Exposure Costly to Club Dancer

A 20-year-old LaCrosse woman of her halter down her arms, posted a $54 bond at the Appleton Police Department early Friday morning after she was arrested for allegedly performing a "topless" dance at a downtown Appleton night club.

Donna Elaine Hutchison, who told police she is staying at the rural Appleton motel while dancer and working here, was ordered to appear in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 at 8:45 a.m. Oct. 13. Police said it was the first "accidental."

Taken to the police station, Miss Hutchison, who said she did not care to talk without an Appleton detective said he was in The Embers, 730 W. College Ave., about 12:45 a.m. she was booked at The Embers on assignment, when he witnessed Miss Hutchison's stage she refused to give a mailing dance. He said that during the address, she told detectives she "slipped both straps" once lived in LaCrosse.

End of Migrant Season Reduces Food Distribution in Waushara

September Poundage in 9-County Area Establishes 16-Month High

NEW LONDON — The end of the migrant labor season in Waushara County during September was the major cause of a decline in participation in the surplus commodities program administered by United Counties Distributors (UCD) for nine area county welfare agencies.

Area participation dropped only 105 persons to 6,559 in September while Waushara County's participation dropped from 504 to 326. Poundage increased by 848 pounds to 118,129.

Yearly totals for the nine county area reached 56,740 participants and 939,225 pounds. September poundage established a 16-month high for UCD, about 14,000 pounds over last year. Participation in the counties increased 221 during the same period.

Poundage Jumped

Outagamie County poundage jumped from 1,823 to 14,248, while participation decreased three to 840. Increased by 46 to 713 and poundage grew 489 to 12,558. Fond du Lac County had 694 people receive 11,675 pounds of food in September compared with 688 participants and 11,571 pounds in August.

Other county totals for September showed Portage had 570 participants and 10,399 pounds; Shawano, 687 people and 12,938 pounds; Marathon 1,257 recipients and 22,858 pounds, and Oconto, 620 persons and 12,503 pounds.

Area Delivery

Theodore Thomas, UCD manager, announced the area delivery schedule Oct. 11 — Oshkosh, northside delivery, 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.; Oct. 12 — Sheboygan architects, and with Albert L. Buechner, representative of the State Department of Public Instruction, on the suitability of the two sites. Both sites are near the senior high school.

Of concern to the board was the amount of land needed for an adequate elementary school building program.

In other business, the board will review omnibus insurance quotations and the contract. The insurance will cover liability, fire, property, workmen's compensation and bonding of the treasurer.

The board will also consider a request to purchase blazers by the athletic department, investment of school money on a short term basis and will discuss the Vocational and Technical District 12 budget.

Money for the blazers has been raised by coaches and athletes.

Help Evaluate School

WAUPACA — Roman P. Dankau, high school guidance director, has accepted an invitation from the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, to take part in an evaluation of Waupun High School, Nov. 7 through 9.

422 Accidents

Waupaca Traffic Toll Running Even With '66

WAUPACA — The number of accidents and persons killed in highway accidents during the first nine months of 1967 are equal to the 1966 toll at this point according to Capt. John Penney, Waupaca County Traffic Patrol.

The 61 accidents filed with county police during September brought the nine-month total to 422.

Traffic fatalities in the county are eight for the year, same number recorded at the end of September of 1966. During the past month the county did not have a traffic fatality, the first fatality-free month since February.

Of the 61 accident reports filed with county police, 56 were investigated by county traffic patrolmen, two by the sheriff's department and three by state patrolmen.

Nineteen persons were injured in the crashes which involved 87 vehicles.

Members of the county traffic patrol made 50 traffic arrests, six criminal arrests, issued 49 warnings and 34 five-day tickets during September. They made 31 blood runs, escorted 17 funerals besides six other escorts, directed traffic at six fires, transported 21 prisoners and assisted 24 motorists in trouble.

Ex-Manawa Wins First Pizza Bowl

PHILADELPHIA — A 31-year-old native of Manawa placed first in a pizza-eating contest Sunday in the Just 'Pizza Bowl' at the University of Pennsylvania.

Three colleges took part in the competition — Penn, Drexel, Institute of Technology and Temple University — that saw 260 pizzas gobbled. Fifteen, five from each school, competed. Army Maj. John Sturm of nearby Elkins Park and a Manawa native, downed one and seven-eighths 12-inch pizzas in ten minutes to win the speed-eating contest.

The major is now working on a masters degree in transportation at Penn's Wharton School and expects to be assigned to Vietnam early next year.

At days end, the home team won overall honors in the contest, teeth down.

Dr. Glenn Cunningham New London Speaker

Central Region

Weyauwega Woman Is Club President

WEYAUWEGA — Mrs. Clarence Radtke, Weyauwega, was chosen as president of the central region of Wisconsin Fed-

Mrs. Radtke has served in the past as treasurer of the region, president of the local club, regional bird chairman, and was named regional "Gardener of the Year" last year.

She is also a charter member of the local club which celebrated its 10th anniversary recently. Other officers elected were Mrs. John Leist, route 4, Merrill, vice-president; Mrs. Donald Dusterbeck, route 3, New London, secretary, and Mrs. Matt Dahm, 93 13th St., Clintonville, treasurer.

Mrs. Charles Brame, Wau-paca, and Mrs. Maynard Zdroik, Rosholt, were chosen as state board delegates and Mrs. Zdroik, the outgoing president, received the "Gardener of the Year" award.

Members of the Weyauwega Garden Club were hosts for the meeting, attended by 115 members from 15 clubs throughout the region.

Marlin Griesbach, Appleton, conducted the morning program entitled "Cactus Gardens" and Harold Erdman, Stevens Point, presented "Autumn and Days Gone By."

Mrs. Lewellyn Faulks, president of the local club, welcomed the group, and Mrs. Gordon Schlinske, state president, was a special guest.

SHIOCTON — The Junior Auxiliary of the American Legion has set Nov. 2 as the tentative date for a trip to the Grand Army Home for Veterans at King where they will be hosts for a bingo party for the residents. Mrs. Dale Nichols and Mrs. Leroy Conradt, junior advisers, will accompany them.

The treasurer reported income of $36 from the sucker tree promotion and a $15 cash award for the float. Mrs. Conradt explained the rules of the Americanism Essay, "Rights Versus Responsibilities" in which junior members are eligible to participate. The contest is entered with the cooperation of the local school faculty.

The foreign relations program will include the study of Malaysia with essay contest to be entitled, "My Trip To Malaysia."

Hilbert Senior Tells Of Day at Boys' State

SHERWOOD — "A typical day at Budger Boys State" was outlined for members of the Thomas E. Kees American Legion Post recently by James Klotz, the Hilbert High School senior they sponsored to attend the civic workshop at Ripon College this summer.

Plans were made to observe Veterans Day with a 7 p.m. dinner at The Cliffs. Deadline for reservations, to be made with Florian Schmidt is Nov. 7.

A work day has been scheduled for 9 a.m. Oct. 14 to install a suspended ceiling in the club house basement. All members are asked to assist.

Women of Moose Observe Early Yule

CLINTONVILLE — "Christmas in October" was the theme of the Women of the Moose (WOTM) recent meeting at the clubhouse.

Mrs. Elsie Olson, Marion, Mooseheart chairman, was in charge of the program.

Fifty-one pairs of mittens were displayed which Mrs. Olson had knit to be sent to Mooseheart for Christmas as a personal gift from her.

Gifts also were displayed by the Moosehaven committee which the chapter will send to Moosehaven for Christmas. Special gifts were displayed to be sent to Moosehaven for Harry Mahoney, formerly of Appleton, and Mamie Stulen, formerly of Wausau. Proceeds from the sale of grab bags also will be sent to Mooseheart.

The publicity and social service committees will meet at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the clubhouse and all chapter members and friends are invited to attend. Mrs. Gerald Esler will be the hostess.

Shiocton Auxiliary Members Told of Annual Essay Contest

SHIOCTON — "Rights Versus Responsibilities" will be the theme of this year's essay contest sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, according to an announcement made at the October meeting here. Information on deadlines and registration were not announced.

Americanism chairman Mrs. LeRoy Conradt told the group the rules for the annual contest. The group purchased a battery-operated portable speaker to be used for the annual Memorial Day services and at other meetings. The $157 unit has two speakers and a podium.

Mrs. Raymond Muskavitch, president, said the kits for American Education and American Legion weeks had arrived. Education Week runs from Nov. 5-11 and Legion Weeks Oct. 20-Nov. 11.

Mrs. Muskavitch added that membership now totals 89 with room for 32 more.

Anti-Vietnam Demonstrations
Other activities included discussion of the articles in "Firing Line" on anti-Vietnam demonstrations in Chicago and activities of youth groups with communistic leanings in our colleges and universities. The publication will be placed in the school library.

Gifts for the Christmas Gift Shop at Wood will be accepted at the November meeting, according to Mrs. Marion Conradt, rehabilitation chairman. They will be mailed Nov. 5-12. She said all gifts should be in good condition since Vietnam veterans will be selecting them to send to their families for Christmas.

Mrs. Conradt also reported on her visit to the Tomah Veterans' Hospital, and Mrs. Allen Gunderson, chairman of the volunteer workers at King, reported that eight weeks or 124 hours had been served.

Stamp Sale
In other reports Mrs. Dale Nichols, junior adviser, said that the recent junior "Sucker Tree" dinner netted $36; Mrs. George Kennedy, national security chairman, said $329 had been collected in the first month of the stamp sale, and three women told of the Oconto Falls area conference they had attended. The three, Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Nichols, and Mrs. Richard Nelson presented the unit with two $10 checks, one for national security and one for community services, besides a poppy emblem and citation for the Blackburn Trophy is the year.

The auxiliary served dinner to more than 250 persons.

Auxiliary members were reminded that the testimonial dinner for Marty Jansen, department commander, is Oct. 21 at Little Chute. The annual membership dinner and department forum on Americanism, Civil Defense and National Security will be held in Milwaukee. Reservations should be made by Oct. 19.

The annual Halloween party for Shiocton area youths will be handled by Mrs. Donald Ronk and Mrs. Muskavitch while Mrs. Conradt, Mrs. Ronk, and Mrs. Muskavitch will be in charge of the Veterans Day party.

November hostesses will be Mrs. Ronk, Mrs. Earl Burton, Mrs. Gunderson, Mrs. Peter Erickson, Mrs. John Croell, and Mrs. Halle Barker.

State Aerial Round-Up Held At Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE — Although many more Legionnaires had to drive-in than fly-in with their 1968 memberships because of the rain Sunday, the state aerial membership round-up was a success.

The Tilleson-Strehlow-Klitz American Legion Post here, was host for the event. Only 18 of the nearly 100 planes expected at the Clintonville Municipal Airport came, three of them were two-engine planes.

Among the state officers present were state Commander Marty Jansen, Little Chute, and state membership chairman Erv VanDyke, Little Chute.

Commander Warren Mitchell of Clintonville welcomed the Legionnaires at the Veterans Memorial Building, headquarters. The Clintonville unit turned in 154 memberships, 20 more than in 1967. District 8, of which Clintonville is a member, had a total of 2,148 memberships for 1968, 502 more than the 1,646 last year.

The auxiliary served dinner to more than 250 persons.

K-C Will Sell Division to Saxon Paper

Transaction for BM&T Subject to Court Approval

NEENAH — Kimberly-Clark Corp. has completed arrangements for the sale of its Blake, Moffitt and Towne Division to Saxon Paper Corp., involving approximately $22.5 million. The final closing should take place early in 1968, the two companies announced.

BM&T is a wholesale distributor of printing and industrial paper products that operates a number of warehouses and sales offices throughout the western United States. The firm's headquarters is in San Francisco.

The sale followed an order issued in May of this year by the U.S. District Court in San Francisco that Kimberly-Clark acquisition of BM & T was in violation of the Clayton Anti-trust Act. BM & T had operated as the division of Kimberly-Clark since its purchase by the worldwide paper and paper products company in 1961.

Subject to Approval
The sale is subject to approval of the court in San Francisco and the U.S. Department of Justice.

Saxon, a New York City-based wholesaler of fine paper and paper products, distributes its products primarily to printers, publishers and stationers on the east coast. Myron P. Berman, chairman and president of Saxon, said BM&T would operate as a wholly-owned subsidiary of the parent firm.

Saxon reported sales of $29 million and pre-tax earnings of $900,000 for the fiscal year ended Dec. 31, 1966. Sales of BM&T for the fiscal year ended April 30, 1967, were $38 million, and pre-tax earnings were $1.6 million.

Guy M. Minard, president of Kimberly-Clark, said the sale of BM&T should have no material effect on Kimberly-Clark's business for the fiscal year ended April 30, 1967.

Kimberly-Clark sales for the fiscal year ended April 30 were $683 million, so the BM&T sales represented approximately 12.7 per cent of the K-C total.

Guilty of Forgeries

Teen-Agers Sentenced For Purse Snatchings

One Oshkosh youth was placed under welfare custody and another has a boys school sentence pending in connection with their involvement last summer in 30 offenses, including numerous purse snatchings in Appleton, Oshkosh, Neenah, Menasha, and Fond du Lac.

The boys, ages 16 and 17, appeared before Judge James G. Sarres of the Winnebago County Juvenile Court. Both were found delinquent during court hearings last August. Sentencing was delayed pending an investigation by the State Department of Health and Social Services.

One boy was placed under custody of the state agency until he is 21 years old, and the other sentenced to one year in the State School for Boys at Wales, but Judge Sarres withheld sentence until Oct. 31, to allow the boy's parents time to try to effect on Kimberly-Clark's business for the fiscal year ended April 30, 1967.

Kimberly-Clark sales for the fiscal year ended April 30 were $683 million, so the BM&T sales represented approximately 12.7 per cent of the K-C total.

That White Stuff You See May be Snow

A couple of days of rain in the Fox Cities area might be capped tonight by the season's first snow which is expected to be mixed in with intermittent showers.

Light snow fell Sunday in Wisconsin's far north, from Superior to Hurley.

But don't expect the snow to last long enough for skiing, since the expected 35-degree low should quickly melt it.

The remainder of the state also has been reminded of the coming winter with low temperatures, drizzle and cold rain throughout the weekend.

Largest amount of rain reported officially was 1.63 of an inch at Lone Rock. Wausau had 1.37, Green Bay 1.48, Madison 1.23 and Appleton .94.

Milwaukee's 64 degrees Sunday was the highest in Wisconsin while the Fox Cities reached 55 degrees. Others ranged down to 43 at Park Falls.

During the night, the mercury dipped to a near-freezing 33 degrees at Superior. Wausau recorded a low of 37, Green Bay 38, Eau Claire, Madison and Appleton 39, Lone Rock 41, La Crosse 42 and Milwaukee 43.

Continued cloudy and cool weather is predicted through Tuesday.

Carl Herber, 56, Policeman at New London Dies

NEW LONDON — Funeral services for Carl J. Herber, 56, 114 E. Wolf River Ave., a city policeman and owner of the City Cab Company, will be at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday at Most Precious Blood Church.

Herber died at his home Sunday from an apparent heart attack.

He had been employed as a police radio operator for the past three years and he and his wife, Gladys, operated the cab firm for the past nine years.

Herber was born June 12, 1911, at Green Bay. He had spent most of his adult life in New London. He was a member of the American Legion, Waupaca County 40 and 8 and a deputy sheriff in Waupaca and Outagamie Counties.

Military graveside rites will be conducted at the Most Precious Blood cemetery. Friends may call at the Cline and Hanson Funeral Home, New London, after 2 p.m. Tuesday.

Survivors in addition to his widow are two sons, three daughters, his mother and a sister.

4 Youths Hurt in Clintonville Crash

CLINTONVILLE — Four Clintonville youths are at the Community Hospital with injuries received in a one-car accident at 1:30 a.m. Saturday at the "Y" on State 22, 2½ miles north of here.

They are Timothy Egan, 18, driver of the car, who has bruised ribs and minor head injuries; Gary Egan, 19, a brother, who has an injured left leg; Toni Werner, 18, who complained of back injuries and is scheduled for x-rays, and Jenny Kautz, 19, who has neck and knee injuries. They were brought to the hospital by the Eberhardt and Hoh ambulance.

Investigating Waupaca County police reported that Egan lost control on the curve as he was driving south and the car traveled about 300 feet into a field. The 1967 model car was demolished.

Open Housing Law Needed

At the time of the racial riot in Milwaukee last August, The Post-Crescent editorially praised Mayor Maier for his quick action in establishing a curfew. But it also warned that "force alone is not the answer" and that "there is a lack of liaison between Milwaukee city officials and the civil rights leaders who might be able to reduce the tensions." We were roundly chastised in a letter from Mayor Maier's press secretary. It is quite clear that there has been little improvement in the relations.

As Archbishop Cousins pointed out, antagonism has reached an anti-Father Groppi stage in which the Roman Catholic priest is blamed for all the trouble. But when Father Groppi took part in a prayer vigil in Washington recently, he was verbally attacked by black nationalists for the peaceful aspects of the demonstrations he leads. And when Father Groppi tried to explain that this may be the last chance for peaceful demonstrations in Milwaukee, he was not making an idle threat.

Milwaukee aldermen resisted the city open housing ordinance at first because they feared the political repercussions in their districts and now apparently because they do not want to appear to be acting under threats. Mayor Maier has been suggested as the Democratic candidate for governor of Wisconsin apparently in the knowledge that there are more whites than blacks in the state. Unfortunately this also implies that there are more bigoted whites than blacks although Mayor Maier supported civil rights causes while in the state legislature.

But this is not merely a failure of the Democratic politicians in Milwaukee. There has been little sign of leadership toward a state-wide open housing ordinance from Gov. Warren Knowles, according to columnist Marquis Childs, because "when the Republican governor sat down with the Republican leaders, he found them set against any such move" and willing to let the Democrats in Milwaukee "stew in their own troubles." If merely political considerations, instead of what is right, are the prime moving factors in the lack of progress toward open housing, leaders of both parties deserve all the trouble they are likely to get.

The city of Madison has expanded its open housing ordinance and so far the walls have not come tumbling down. Residents in the Fox River Valley should be passing similar ordinances before they are faced with a large number of Negroes and in order to prevent the development of Negro ghettos. But so far as we know not a single city official in a single Fox River Valley city has dared make such a proposal.

Sociologist Daniel Patrick Moynihan, speaking to the Americans for Democratic Action, warned that the major aim of civil rights groups should be to prevent the handful of extremist Negro leaders from getting control of the thousands of frustrated, disenfranchised and more and more disillusioned Negroes in our large cities. The attacks upon Father Groppi in Washington and the failures of white Wisconsin leaders to see the situation as it really is may mean that last summer's Milwaukee riot will be only a warm-up for next summer.

The Vietnam Bombing Issue

Every day the list grows of those who advocate an American halt in its bombing of North Vietnam as a first step toward peaceful negotiations. At the United Nations, European, African and Asian nations encourage such a move. Norway has joined other NATO members in approving it. And even Indonesia, which we are supposed to be saving from communism by our military action in Vietnam, has now advocated a halt.

Both political parties in the United States are split on the matter. But one of the "hawks," Sen. Stuart Symington, now has come around to suggesting that we stop all military activity that we can in Vietnam and if, after a reasonable time there is no reciprocal move by North Vietnam we expand the war. He does not even rule out the possibility of nuclear weapons.

There have been charges that President

Johnson is committed to a military solution to Vietnam and that he has consistently misled the American people in saying that it isn't so. If this is true, even the bombing halts President Johnson did order take on a cloak of deceit particularly since he turned down what is claimed to have been a sincere offer to negotiate from Hanoi through Moscow in January, 1965. And if the President is committed to such a solution, opposition from every nation in the world won't change his mind.

The United States, of course, does not need approving world opinion to fight a war. But in the long run it does need such approval at home. As the war goes on with reports of little or no progress and the casualties continue to mount, such approval grows doubtful.

It's time to call a halt in the bombing and see whether peace talks will ensue. It was, in fact, time many months ago.

Food and Drug Research Lab

Chances that a Food and Drug Administration research laboratory will be located in Madison were immeasurably improved when a Senate-House conference committee approved an amendment to a Health, Education and Welfare appropriations bill that the facility may not be built closer than 50 miles of Washington. The distance restriction eliminates the chance that the facility would be constructed in Beltsville, Md., the first choice of the Food and Drug Administration because it already has facilities there.

Location of the laboratory which will do basic research to develop procedures and instrumentation for checking the quality of food and drugs has been the subject of political hauling and tugging for a number of months. Originally, the House included the amendment by Rep. Melvin Laird of Marshfield containing the distance restriction. When the bill went to the Senate, Sen. Proxmire of Wisconsin submitted an amendment which provided money for the laboratory but cut out the Laird amendment. In effect, this meant that the laboratory would be in the Maryland location.

In the conference committee, Laird insisted that his amendment be restored. The committee agreed, leaving two steps yet to be accomplished to assure the $16.5 million facility for Madison: approval of the conference report by the House and Senate and President Johnson's signature.

We agree with Rep. Laird that location of the laboratory in Madison "will be a great boon to the city's and state's economy and will attract some of the top caliber scientists and other food research experts to Wisconsin." We also agree with his statement that "there is too much concentration of research facilities in coastal states, resulting in a brain drain from Wisconsin and the Midwest," and that "this project will help keep this talent at home to develop new industries for Wisconsin. It isn't just the scientists, it's what they will attract to Wisconsin."

The work of the laboratory certainly can be coordinated with the high caliber research which has been carried on at the University of Wisconsin for many years. In this connection, Prof. Robert Beck, dean of the UW Graduate School, said, "Several of our strongest areas of basic research are fundamental to the type of problems that the FDA has to solve in its daily role." In addition, the coordinated work of the two can lead to solutions to problems of food production and distribution which are so important to Wisconsin's economy.

Rep. Laird deserves commendation for insisting on his amendment to clear the way for location of the FDA facility in Madison. Its location there not only will help the city but will be of benefit to the entire state.

The Rev. Timothy Olmstead, who a year ago was brought from the Rock River Conference to officiate in the Methodist Episcopal Church of this City (Appleton) was very properly given permission by the Wisconsin Conference, at its recent sitting at Beaver Dam, to return to Illinois.
He is to be located at Apple River, in the Freeport District.
We sincerely hope that "Brother Olmstead's" future labors may be successful, and that he will sedulously avoid distracting his new charge, or create dissensions for political ends.

The Rev. Wesley Latin, of Ripon, is assigned to Appleton, and he will be warmly welcomed.

Taylor Writes
Taxpayers Could Tell President
How to Save if He Were Willing

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR
When President Johnson balks at cutting the Great Society's overspending there are millions of suffering taxpayers who could easily tell him how to do it.
First, stop the boobland decisions and political vote-buying and thus stop borrowing more money. The $14.1 billion annual interest on the money already borrowed is more than Mr. Johnson has budgeted for the Departments of Health, Welfare and Education and Housing combined. Second only to defense, the debt interest item is the largest we pay.
The waste in the multibillion so-called War on Poverty? I am leaving now on a trip that includes riot-torn Detroit and intend to write about this from there.
Washington is spending more in 1967 alone on so-called research and development than the Federal government spent in the total years of our history through World War II. If anything is loaded with fat, overlapping programs and spectacular extravagance, this colossal item is it.
The Central Intelligence Agency, in turn, our spy shop, is larger than the State Department and spends nearly twice as much money. Similarly, although this coupled reference to spies is coincidental,

Taylor

Next, sacrifice the image-makers instead of the taxpayers — the press agents and other peddlers of Great Society pap.
An Associated Press compilation shows that Big Brother spends more than $452 million a year for public relations and the Vesuvius of information and manipulated misinformation that Washington pours out. The General Accounting Office finds 6,858 Federal employees are kept busy part or full time at this, and just the salaries of Mr. Johnson's press secretary and his 10 assistants now total $170,000 a year.
Savings beget savings and much of Mr. Johnson's failure to save starts with the added payrollers. Like the Eiffel Tower, their numbers go straight up. The House Post Office and Civil Service subcommittee says we now pay Big Brother $8 billion a year to paperpush 15 million copies of 366,000 Great Society forms and questionnaires. About 250,000 civil servants are chiefly occupied with filling them into cabinets.
The foreign aid program remains loose beyond relief House Foreign Aid Committee watchdog Otto Passman (D., La.) found that our outpouring is closer to $9 billion a year than the President's requested $3.2 billion. It involves nearly $7 billion additional in 14 other separate appropriations
In the past 10 years we've given $10 billion to Latin America and Mr. Johnson has committed us to give $5.5 billion more in the next five years, Vietnam war or no Vietnam war. The background for this is his August 1966, promise on the fifth anniversary of the Alliance for Progress of 140 million new Latin-American jobs, a million new homes, countless new classrooms, etc., with no discernible way to achieve these.
We paid the Colombian government an outrageous $393,000 as a "port charge" to allow our food deliveries to Colombians to be unloaded. Another of our taxpayers' monuments is deposed Ghana President Kwame Nkrumah's $3 million private zoo in Accra along with the $2.5 million Emperor Haile Selassie Municipal Center, neon-lit, in Addis Ababa. We've poured $65 million into coal mines in Turkey that still do not pour out coal. A $48 million gift to be matched in the Philippines remains unmatched, but our taxpayers' money is gone.
In fact, so absurd have Mr. Johnson's definitions become that in delivering Federal funds for state aid on a 90-10 basis he even calls this a matching basis.
Mr. Johnson has transformed an interest in spending into an obsession, for which we pay every penny. The problem isn't how to save, but his willingness to really do it.

Need Road
Plannina by County Board

Editor, Post-Crescent.
As each day goes by, the traffic problem increases and the proper provision for major traffic arteries must be maintained.
Because Northland Avenue was a controlled access highway, it remains a fine road and is used with a high degree of traffic today, and future planning would seem to indicate there should be a continual decrease in the amount of driveway access to this road. As the city continues to grow to the north, this highway becomes even more important and should be preserved for heavy travel.
I would like to see the county board take a very firm attitude on providing for the future traffic problems of this area as I am sure all the citizenry of this county would support such action.

BY GEORGE TIPLER
MADISON — Local public education and education issues in Wisconsin cause grave concern for those paternalistic guardians who managed this public service during the previous generation. In their tenure it was taboo to hint that education (in its broadest sense) would become involved in politics or political decisions or that classroom teachers would prescribe terms upon which administrators and school boards would consider (bargain collectively) wages and working conditions.

Tipler

A much more unthinkable development would have been a program of extensive federal aid and nationwide student testing for learning achievement. All of these programs are realities today and the ripples of opposition are fading beyond perception and without successful deterrent.
Widespread testing, historically a much debated and often decried issue, is here. The program is directed by a nationally recognized educator, and financed by a national foundation, with the stated purpose of assessing or taking inventory of the learning achievements of our youth and young adults. We'll have nationwide assessment (testing) shortly and its promotion and initiation will have been accomplished outside the realm of the formal education establishment and historic policy determining structure. Some changes in education are being prompted by powerful forces beyond the local and state jurisdictions.
THE FEDERAL FLOW
The politics of the issue of federal aid to education is not as subtle as testing. Historically some administrators, some school board members, and some politicians of a conservative nature decried federal aid to education. Today the uninterrupted flow of federal funds is of importance to numerous districts. If the federal funds to the Department of Public Instruction, for its Madison operation, were doubled the federal government would in effect have bought out that department.
It is interesting for one to listen to the debates about state aids and about federal aids when it is discussed by legislators at each of these two levels. Legislators of the same political affiliation can be heard at the federal level talking about the investment in education and at the state level complaining about the increasing burden or obligation being caused by the fiscal requests for local public education. Keep in mind that in each case we may be hearing from two different representatives, each representing the same voters and taxpayers.

George Tipler of Winneconne, executive secretary of the Wisconsin Association of School Boards, was invited to write a guest column by John Wyngaard, who is on vacation.

A generation ago teaching candidates came hat-in-hand for a job. The conditions after employment were dutifully accepted upon the decision of the local school board.

SELLERS' MARKET
Teachers today have a posture on employment and salaries which the older of their members still can't quite come to believe. In the mid 1960s the teachers are receiving the administrators with hat-in-hand. However, private employment in many cases is the better choice.
The schools must attempt to develop more programs of full-year employment. We presently find ourselves in a position of trying to meet competition under dissimilar conditions. Presently it is analogous to taking the insurance agent's license away for three months and authorizing him to earn a livelihood.
Employment conditions are referred to as professional negotiations or collective bargaining — depending upon which group of teachers is involved. In practice the process is similar. Today the teachers are enjoying a participation in policy discussion — and determination — the like of which their predecessor didn't always enjoy. Wisconsin, along with eight to 10 other states, is pioneering in this field of public employee (teacher) negotiations under a specific statutory procedure.
Decision making in education — as our older superintendents and school board members knew it — is experiencing some interesting changes with the new participants.
A new issue in public employment may be the responsibility to be attached to the employee who may share in policy determination without a corresponding accounting to the electorate.

Strictly Personal Distinction Between Egotist and Egoist

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS
A schoolboy in Toledo writes in to ask the difference between the words "egotist" and "egoist," since his dictionary isn't much help in this department.
People have said to me, "I don't see how you can like so-and-so; he's always talking about himself and his projects." But so-and-so, when one gets to know him, is fundamentally a decent person with a great deal of energy and esprit.
The true egotist pulls everything inward from the periphery of his life to the center of his little personality; the egoist pushes outward from the core and spills over. This is sometimes messy or unpleasant, but never vicious.
A great figure such as Goethe, for instance, was a monumental egoist; so much so that it is impossible to separate the man from the writer. But his egoism was informed with goodwill and spaciousness and charity toward others — which make his writings warm and delightful, even when he is most involved in examining his own soul.
The ego is a marvelous instrument for expressing the best that is in us; only when he is crippled or perverted by poor early training does it produce the egotist who expresses the worst that is in him.
'Tennessee Waltz' Is Largest Selling Record by Female
"Tennessee Waltz," introduced in 1950 by Patti Page, now is the official state song of Tennessee. It is said to have sold 3 million copies in its first year of release. Approximately 6 million copies have been sold to date, making it the largest-selling record by a girl singer.

Harris

Well, the dictionary distinction may be a fine one, but in the world of psychology there is a tremendous difference between the man who is an "egotist" and the one who is an "egoist."
The first is offensively self-concerned. An egotistic person is generally small of spirit and focused on himself. He wants to take, to inflate himself at the expense of others, to raise himself by depreciating them.
The egoist — and all great prophets, artists and creative persons generally are egoists — is often magnanimous and large of spirit. He usually has a great deal of verve and an active sense of humor about himself.
A few of my dearest friends are egoists, and they are thoroughly enjoyable — for I know that they are not adding to themselves by taking away from me. They are not selfish, or envious, in petty ways, as the egotist always is.
This distinction has more than verbal importance; it may help us in revising our estimates of people we know. For some people, at slight acquaintance, seem to be ego-
